Brave Nurse Saves Woman's Life In Rescue From Blazing Auto

A Victoria nurse, who was driving home from Nanaimo when two cars collided at Goldstream Tuesday night was credited with saving the life of one of the crash victims who was pinned under a blazing car.

Miss Phyllis Hamilton, nurse at Nanaimo Indian Hospital, braved a gasoline fire which tossed flames 25 feet, to drag Mrs. Dorothy White, 42, of Burnaby, to safety. Mrs. White is still suffering shock and burns at St. Joseph's Hospital today.

Also injured in the wet-road skid collision were her husband, S. Arthur White, 46, lacerations, and Alfred Morley, Bilsborough, 34, 3681 Craigmillar, who is in good condition at St. Joseph's with a fractured right knee-cap.

Mr. and Mrs. White were heading north at about 9 p.m. when their car spun out of control during a heavy rainstorm. The rear of the northbound car swung into the front of the Bilsborough car. The force of the collision threw the cars to opposite road-sides and punctured the gas tank in the car driven by Mr. White. Sparks caused by the grinding metal ignited the gas.

MISS HAMILTON

Miss Hamilton rounded infamous "Suicide Corner" and halted at the sight of the crash victims. Mr. Bilsborough was waving at her and calling for help.

HUSBAND STUNNED
Mr. White was lying in the roadway stunned and the injured woman was stretched out with her head and upper body under the burning car.

Nurse Hamilton ran to her first. "I tried to drag her away, hoping that I wouldn't injure her more." There was no time for careful handling due to the searing heat.

"Her arm was jammed under the rear wheel and at first she wouldn't move. I finally got her free."

She recalled that she dragged the injured woman about a car length, then rested and dragged her further away. She saw that Mrs. White's hair was singed but at the time could see no other injuries. She loosened the woman's clothing and called to some men who gathered as other cars stopped.

The car was burning too fiercely to permit the nurse to see inside as she sought for other victims. Some of the other persons at the scene later verified no one else was inside.

Miss Hamilton stayed with the injured woman until Langford firemen, Colwood RCMP and Langford ambulance arrived and the injured were rushed to hospital.

ON HOLIDAY
The nurse is holidaying for a few days from the Indian Hospital and will visit with her parents at 1330 Monterey.

Other motorists using the Malahat highway Tuesday night found their headlights could barely penetrate a deluge caused by an electrical storm centred in that area. Police recalled that the scene of the crash was the same spot where three died in a car-truck collision last year.

They were Stanley Cross, 46, 132 Dallas; Donald B. Johnston, 34, 810 Metcalvin; and Lester B. Jones, 59, 2581 Blackwood.

Old lady: "What's that mean?"

"It means we've become part of Canada."

"That's fine—I never did like that boat trip."

There are other items of St. John's history. Alcock and Brown set out from here, in 1919, on the first air crossing of the Atlantic ever made. Marconi stood where Cabot once stood, and received the first trans-Atlantic radio signal. Lindbergh flew low through the narrows as he set out on his lone flight.

There must be lots more, but there's a limit to space—and a limit to the number of facts that one can absorb in a short stay. I did my best with the facts, under breaking waves of hospitality.

A FRONTAL ATTACK
But I found that I had something important to live down, as well.

It was early in my stay, at a party. A small fierce woman with a cold eye strode up and said: "Mr. Monsarrat, I am going to make a frontal attack on you."

"Playing it safe, I said that my wife wouldn't like that at all."

Her eyes glittered briefly. "Mr. Monsarrat, why did you write that St. John's was a bleak place?"

I explained that I meant the weather in winter, not the warm-hearted people all the year round. I went on repeating that explanation, throughout my stay. I do so now, for the honor of truth and the repayment of a debt.

Night clubs, dory trips, Portuguese schooners, helicopters—this is a trans-Canada motor tour, and it really is going to start soon.

VALDMANIS TELLS COURT HE'S GUILTY

Admits Fraud
Of $200,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A. Valdmantis, former economic director for Newfoundland, today pleaded guilty to charges of defrauding the Newfoundland government of $200,000. Valdmantis will be sentenced Friday.

Another charge involving an additional $270,000 has been deferred. Valdmantis entered his plea in Supreme Court this morning.

Scheduled to appear next Tuesday, Valdmantis, 47, who appeared tense and nervous, was taken into the oak-lined Supreme Court chambers in a surprise move.

Defense lawyer Gordon Higgins who entered a strong clemency plea said he understood that the federal revenue department may take criminal action against Valdmantis.

This was followed May 1 with an additional charge of defrauding a German machine company of $270,000. The charge said that the alleged fraud was committed between August, 1950, and October, 1951, while the company, Betrieb Gesellschaft of Brunswick, had a contract for construction of machinery for a cement plant at Humbermouth on the province's west coast.

Higgins valued Valdmantis' assets at $568,759.

ARRESTED IN APRIL
Valdmantis was arrested April 23 in St. Andrews, N.B., on a warrant charging extortion. A few days later he was officially charged with defrauding the Newfoundland government of $150,000 and since then the figure has been increased to $200,000.

Valdmantis stood for the one-hour session, often blinking and swallowing hard. Although he shed tears on several earlier occasions, the emotional industrialist kept his eyes dry for this appearance.

Mr. Higgins said that because his client had gained his Canadian citizenship only a month before his April 23 arrest, he may possibly be deported if the federal revenue department takes criminal action against him.

Valdmantis was finance minister in his native Latvia at 29. He came to Newfoundland two years after he landed in Canada under sponsorship of the Lady Davis Foundation, which sponsors the immigration of outstanding Europeans.

STARTED AT $10,000
Valdmantis started piloting Newfoundland's economic development program at $10,000 a year but soon had his salary increased to $25,000.

Progressive Conservative members of the legislature were sharply critical of Valdmantis. They claimed he was paid more than he was worth. But the government just as strongly defended him and at one time Premier Smallwood said: "Newfoundland will one day erect a statue to Dr. Valdmantis."

Two newspapers, the Toronto Star and Telegram, urged the little heroine editorially to stay in Canada.

The Toronto Telegram said: "She wishes to go back to school; let this one wish be fulfilled. There will be time for a career—and it will be a brilliant one—in the great world of show business. She may never again live in obscurity, but she is entitled to guard against the heartache and the risk of being thrust into the maelstrom of Hollywood show business."

The Star said, "Will it be said that Canada won the swim but the United States won the swimmer? Many Canadians will hope not. What the girl who has so endeared herself to Canadians should do next is her own business, but the majority of her admirers will, we think, hope that Hollywood is not in the picture."

Her coach, Gus Ryder, said bluntly, "If they want her to stay the lovely little girl she is, the quicker they get her back to normal routine the better."

Marilyn herself was feeling like a fish out of water as she sat in on the negotiations that might lead her to Hollywood as another Esther Williams.

Bobby Thorpe, Trailermen's jaunty playing coach, admitted he felt the Rocks were a better team than the one that bowed to Petes last year in the Mann Cup final.

"No team could add Johnston, O'Hearn and Blonda and not improve," he said. But Thorpe added that the Petes also had some new arrivals, young but highly effective.

Barbara Ann Advises Marilyn

"Once you turn professional you haven't much time left for yourself," Canada's world and Olympic figure skating champion Barbara Ann Scott warned 16-year-old Marilyn Bell in an open letter to the press today. The Toronto high school girl, conqueror of Lake Ontario, is reported yearning for school and a normal life while Daddy and advisers talk contracts with New York theatrical agents.

School or Screen? Controversy Rages

'Confused by Fame,' Marilyn Bell Ordered
To Bed for Rest; U.S. Agents Talk Contract

From BUP, CP DISPATCHES

TORONTO—Sixteen-year-old Marilyn Bell, nervous and near collapse after five straight days as Canada's number one celebrity, was ordered to rest today by her doctor.

Dr. Richard C. Hughes told Marilyn to spend the morning in bed and canceled all but two brief public appearances for her today.

Dr. Hughes said the young Lake Ontario swimmer was physically fit but exhausted and "slightly confused" by her fame. She has had no time to herself since her history-making swim last Thursday and hasn't been able to go out for a walk or to drive her new convertible without attracting crowds of photographers and autograph seekers.

Marilyn's advisers were huddling with New York agents over contract that might take her to Hollywood, but opposition to the move snowballed among her fans and friends.

THEY NEVER SAW DAYLIGHT

U.S. Newsmen, Sea Captain Freed By Reds After 18 Months Jail

HONG KONG (UP)—Two American war correspondents and a young U.S. merchant captain returned to freedom and daylight today after 18 months in dark, bed-bug infested jail cells in Red China.

The three—former United Press correspondent Richard Applegate, International News Service writer Donald Dixon and Capt. Ben Kransner—said their Communist captors:

1. Never permitted them to see daylight during the entire year and one-half of their captivity.

2. Never permitted them to communicate and did not even indicate to any of them whether the others were alive.

3. Bombarded them with "stupid and bewildering questions," especially about American "germ warfare" in Korea and about their "invasion" of Chinese territorial waters and insisted on phony "confessions."

4. Gave them fair food but little water and no cigarettes or other "luxuries."

The three showed the effects of their long imprisonment principally in loss of weight, tattered and dirty clothing, impressive crops of whiskers and hands that shook as they accepted from friends who greeted them here the first cigarettes they had tasted in 18 months.

They came across the Red Chinese frontier to freedom at 2:40 p.m. a little more than three days after the Red Chinese had

Waiter's Body Found on Links

VANCOUVER (CP)—The "gangland" murder of a 43-year-old waiter was under investigation here today after his body was found dumped under a tree on a local golf course.

The victim was identified as Daniel Brent, who had been shot through the head.

Police theorized that Brent, described as an ex-convict, was killed somewhere else in the city and his body driven to the University Golf Course.

Tire tracks leading to a point on the edge of the 10th green were discovered after the body was found by a golf course employee.

The car then wheeled around and drove out on to a boulevard the way it had come.

No murder weapon has been found.

The body was found by tractor driver Sam Bute, who said: "As soon as I saw him I could see a bullet hole below his right ear. He was lying on his left side, stretched out with his head on his arm."

Nearby residents said they heard no strange noises during the night.

The golf course is located just outside the city limits, about seven miles from the downtown area.

'Last Chance' Offer

Revised German Arms Plan Put Before
French Premier by Foreign Secretary

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will fly tonight to Germany and Britain to deal personally with the talks on German rearmament. Dulles will fly directly to Bonn, capital of West Germany, for talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

From UP AND AP DISPATCHES
PARIS—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met French Premier Pierre Mendes-France today in a crucial, showdown conference which will decide whether France will play a role in a revised plan for a West European defense alliance.

Eden, who already has won approval for the plan from West Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries, came to Paris to serve notice on the French that this is their last chance to line up with their West European neighbors in a defense alliance which would involve controlled German rearmament.

France killed the earlier, American-backed plan for creating a continental defense force, including 500,000 retrained West Germans.

Diplomatic sources said Eden will warn Mendes-France in tonight's conference that French rejection of the new seven-nation plan would result in an Anglo-American decision to rearm Germany without French approval.

ALL NIGHT TALKS?
The discussions between the two statesmen are expected to continue far into tonight.

As a replacement for EDC's one-uniform, six-power European army, Britain proposes to link a rearmament West Germany and Italy to the Brussels mutual defense pact signed in 1948 by Britain, France and the three Benelux countries.

The expanded alliance presumably would operate under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which has taken over the military phases of the Brussels pact. The big problem appears to be whether France, whose parliament voted more than two years ago against admitting Germany into NATO, now will accept such an arrangement.

This was the first major fight, scheduled for theatre television, to be postponed because of weather since the light heavyweight title bout between champion Joey Maxim and Ray Robinson on June 25, 1952. That bout was delayed 24 hours because of rain.

Title Fight Postponed
24 Hours

NEW YORK (UP)—The heavyweight championship title fight between Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles, scheduled for Yankee Stadium tonight, was postponed today until Thursday night because of rain.

Chairman Robert T. Christenberry of the New York Boxing Commission announced that there would be another physical examination Thursday, but not necessarily a weigh-in since the fighters are heavyweights.

Christenberry said, however, that there was a possibility the fighters may be placed on the scales in routine fashion.

Promoter Jim Norris announced the postponement shortly after today's weigh-in at which Charles scaled the heaviest of his career, 192½ pounds, and Marciano registered 186½.

The postponement was announced in the face of a weather forecast which predicted more rain Thursday.

ACROSS CANADA WITH MONSARRAT

SEEN 10 YEARS LATER
ST. JOHN'S IMPROVED

No one should come to St. John's without seeing Mr. O. L. Vardy, of the Newfoundland Tourist Development Board. Mr. Vardy is an enthusiastic and a knowledgeable one. He is also a great help to anyone who wants to see his territory.

EXCLUSIVE to the TIMES
Apart from meeting the maximum number of people, my needs were simple: a drive around the town, a climb up to the headland above the harbor, and a boat trip around the harbor itself. Mr. Vardy nodded to all those things. Then he said, "I expect you'd like a trip in a helicopter, up to Bonavista."

I said that I'd like that very much.

Mr. Vardy nodded again. "Easy, we'll lay it all on. Now let's go to a night club."

GROWTH NOTED
It's 10 years since I've seen St. John's, and it has grown substantially. The shops are bigger, better and brighter; the housing development has covered several additional hills and valleys; there are lots more people; even the sun seems to come out more often. Ten years, and the change from war to peace, has made a vast difference. Only the harbor seems the same—the harbor with its perfect natural curve, busy quays, salty flavor. And sailors all the way round the world will be glad to know that the Crow's Nest is still doing business at the old stand—the one with all those steps.

We went round the harbor in a dory that was taking a short holiday from fishing. It was cold and foggy at the entrance, warm and sheltered inside. All along the quays were big ships and small ones; fishing boats from as far away as Spain and Portugal. St. John's schooners that putter up and down the coast with any cargo they can find.

The naval dockyard where we used to lie during the war was empty; everywhere else was crowded.

DOWN THE YEARS
The sea is the life of St. John's. These are a sea people, and that has been true since Cabot first set foot on the bluffs overlooking the harbor, 450 years ago. The most substantial businesses are the old-established shipping and import firms. There's a Fisherman's News every day on the radio. All ship's movements are meticulously reported in the papers. The largest codfish (105 lbs., four foot six long) ever caught in these parts had recently breathed its last. I had the impression that there were a lot of mourners.

St. John's has the sea to live by, and it has a lot of history to remember. Not just Cabot (though I suppose that is the proudest bit of history any harbor in the new world could have), but latter-day history of significance.

Many people—particularly older people—will talk by the hour of pre-Confederation days, and Newfoundland's unique position in a maritime empire which was made (and could only have been made) by sea-faring. They don't exactly mourn a lost independence; but they are alert against any move to expunge it from the history-books.

A LOCAL JOKE
Incidentally, there's a local joke about Confederation, when Newfoundland joined Canada, which is good enough to repeat. It goes like this:

Young man: "Now we've got Confederation."

Old lady: "What's that mean?"

"It means we've become part of Canada."

"That's fine—I never did like that boat trip."

There are other items of St. John's history. Alcock and Brown set out from here, in 1919, on the first air crossing of the Atlantic ever made. Marconi stood where Cabot once stood, and received the first trans-Atlantic radio signal. Lindbergh flew low through the narrows as he set out on his lone flight.

There must be lots more, but there's a limit to space—and a limit to the number of facts that one can absorb in a short stay. I did my best with the facts, under breaking waves of hospitality.

A FRONTAL ATTACK
But I found that I had something important to live down, as well.

It was early in my stay, at a party. A small fierce woman with a cold eye strode up and said: "Mr. Monsarrat, I am going to make a frontal attack on you."

"Playing it safe, I said that my wife wouldn't like that at all."

Her eyes glittered briefly. "Mr. Monsarrat, why did you write that St. John's was a bleak place?"

I explained that I meant the weather in winter, not the warm-hearted people all the year round. I went on repeating that explanation, throughout my stay. I do so now, for the honor of truth and the repayment of a debt.

The Bi-Partisan Policy

JUST TEN YEARS AGO, IN THE middle of the 1944 election, Mr. Dulles was invited to the office of Mr. Cordell Hull, secretary of state, to consult on foreign affairs. Out of that conference came the bi-partisan foreign policy of the United States.

It has suffered many attacks by irresponsible politicians of both parties since then. Last spring, at the height of the Indo-China crisis, it seemed to have perished altogether in a bitter partisan quarrel. But in the last few weeks it has been rescued by President Eisenhower and his opponent of 1952, Mr. Adlai Stevenson.

Mr. Dulles, has announced this rescue in a remarkable public statement, obviously timed for the autumn election campaign. He says, to begin with, that he will take no part whatever in the election, thus ostentatiously excluding his great office of foreign minister from domestic politics. He adds that just as the Republican Party, in opposition, supported the foreign policy of the Democratic administration, the Democrats have supported President Eisenhower, and thus "we have, I believe, developed a national policy of stability and continuity such as is needed in these dangerous times."

It certainly is needed. For any foreign policy which is subject to overnight change, with a change of government, which is constantly at the peril of political manoeuvre and lacks the general support of the nation, is bound to fail.

American foreign policy succeeded brilliantly during the war and in the immediate postwar years, largely because it had the support of both political parties and all but a minority of the nation at large. It fell into apparent disorder only when politicians like Senator McCarthy began their attack on "twenty years of treason" under the Democrats, and the angered opposition blamed the Eisenhower Government for the diplomatic defeat of Indo-China.

Recently the issue of the European Defense Community gave, Mr. Eisenhower the chance to seek the co-operation of the Democratic Party and he eagerly grasped it. At the President's request Mr. Stevenson appealed to the French Parliament to ratify the E.D.C. While France rejected the appeal of the two American party leaders, the defeat of the E.D.C. achieved a notable victory for the American bi-partisan policy. In this great affair government and opposition stood together, and they evidently intend to stand together in international affairs, despite the domestic divisions of the Congressional election.

Actually their quarrels in this field were always largely artificial. True enough, Mr. Eisenhower condemned and sometimes distorted the foreign policy of the Truman Government in the election of 1952, but he did not change it in any essential after he took office. Mr. Stevenson has frequently criticized the present administration's management of foreign policy, he has rightly protested the excesses of many Republicans of the lunatic fringe, but he has had no reason to condemn what the administration has done, though he might often condemn what it has said.

In any event, when the President seeks the public co-operation of Mr. Stevenson, when Mr. Dulles pays tribute to the loyalty of the opposition, the outrageous charge of treason leveled at the Democrats by the McCarthy wing of the Republican Party is flatly repudiated by the present government. And the result of this renewed co-operation is to strengthen foreign policy immeasurably. The world, and particularly the communists, now see that this policy will continue, whatever happens in domestic politics.

New Air Route to Europe

UNDER PRESENT ARRANGEMENTS Canadian Pacific Airlines carries passengers and express to and from Canada across the Pacific. Trans-Canada Air Lines handles the similar service over the Atlantic. In addition, TCA conducts east-west flights across the country, and CPA has authority to fly north and south within Canada.

That is roughly the background against which CPA seeks authority to extend its service with a long hop over the North Pole from Vancouver to Amsterdam. If the application is granted the private company will have power to fly from its Pacific Coast terminus to a destination not far from the TCA terminal in Europe—but it will reach that destination by traveling over the top of the globe, not around its Atlantic arc.

The plan opens several development possibilities. Among other results, it would give to CPA a connecting link between its Pacific service—which draws business from the Orient, Manila, Australia and New Zealand—and Europe. Some of that business is now channelled through TCA aircraft operating out of Vancouver, flying over Canada on the regular route and thence across to Britain.

In that respect the suggested North Pole flight line would offer competition to TCA, though CPA planes would not touch down in Britain.

To what extent such competition might injure TCA by reducing its business is a matter for the experts to determine. Against any damage must be weighed the advantage of a second line of Canadian air communication between the Pacific coast and north Europe. A comparable service, with refueling privileges only at Winnipeg, is planned by a Scandinavian line flying from Stockholm to Los Angeles.

The route over the North Pole is shorter by 1,000 miles than the conventional Trans-Canada flight from Vancouver, through Montreal to Britain. Conceivably it would be that much cheaper. It would not, moreover, interfere with east-west Canadian traffic and would not tap the heavy eastern sources of business now the preserve of TCA.

Under these circumstances the application appears to deserve favorable consideration.

CPA is proposing a pioneering route over the top of the world. The venture, as far as a layman can see, offers the least possible chance of interference with existing TCA domestic and Atlantic business. It does, on the other hand, promise additional strength to the CPA magnet attracting through-to-Europe traffic from the Orient against strong international competition. That, presumably, will be an important factor in influencing the decision of Canadian authorities who can grant or withhold approval.

What You Get for What You Pay

GREENLAND HAS APPARENTLY reversed the old idiom of "No taxation without representation."

Last year the great, ice-capped island, for many years a Danish colony, became a constitutional part of Denmark and was given two seats in the Danish Parliament at Copenhagen. At the same time it was granted immunity from direct taxation.

Now the Greenland Council requests the institution of an income tax on the island's people. It takes this action because it recognizes that many improvements are required and existing local taxation methods cannot provide funds to finance them.

Pipes, Pride and Pocketbooks

BRITISH COLUMBIANS WHO have become used to seeing Indian totem poles and baskets imported from Japan for sale in Canada will be only slightly astonished by the action of the Legion kiltie band of Kitchener, Ontario, in ordering its bagpipes and drums from Pakistan. In Victoria particularly, where a Chinese girl once won a Highland fling competition, this mixture of Asiatic and Gaelic will be viewed with equanimity.

But Scots in general may be expected to rise in anguish and demand a reason for this heretical policy. It

The thinking of the Greenland people deserves consideration here and elsewhere. Antipathy to taxes is almost universal. But only through taxation can necessary public work be done and public services be carried on.

The Christian Science Monitor, commenting on the question, cites the attitude of former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. Asked by a secretary if he didn't hate taxes, the eminent jurist gave an apt reply: "No, young fellow, I like to pay taxes. With them I buy civilization."

Most people may be incapable of sharing the Holmes' enthusiasm for public levies, but the argument he advanced must impress them.

It is true that although the kilts for the band will be made in Kitchener, the tunics are to be imported from Scotland. Will this alloy the indignation of Glasgow's pipe makers or cool the fevered brows of wretched Edinburgh craftsmen? Neither pipes of Pan nor Pakistan will lure such devotees of the ancient Gaelic instrument.

But there is one phase of the transaction that will strike a responsive chord among all lovers of chanters and drones. By buying in Pakistan rather than from Scotland, the kiltie band saved $3,000. Need more be said?

Always Thrown for a Loss

By DAVID BROCK

T. A. TORRANCE, the English golfer, recently went round in 70 strokes, at the age of 64. This in competitive play, mind you, when a team of "senior" British golfers beat a team of "senior" American ones. (In the States you become a senior at 50, and in Great Britain at 55. This is, possibly, because we in North America seem to "slip our chests" a few years earlier... that is to say, we get potbellied about five years sooner, or maybe ten.) Henry Longhurst, the golfer and golf writer, suggested that Torrance may "soon look forward to joining that small but distinguished body who have 'gone round in their age'." That means going around in 70 at 70 years of age, or in 80 at 80, and so on.

I WONDER at what age an ex-champion is most likely to perform this rare and remarkable feat? I am not thinking of James Braid, who must have often gone round in the low 70s when he was about 80, and on tougher courses (if shorter), and with a less lively ball, and in any weather. I mean ex-champs who are a little more human! James Braid was made out of hickory.

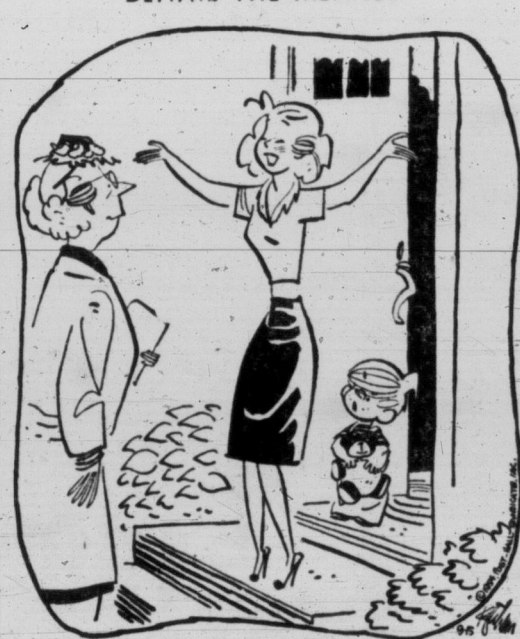

I suppose the best chance of going round in your age, if you were a well-preserved old champ, would be to get a 75 on your 75th birthday. But this is only a guess. I am no gerontologist, or whatever they call those experts on old age. I do know that not many men of 100 are going round in 100. Maybe Old Parr could have done it... which suggests too many puns for me.

Did you ever hear of Old Parr? He is said to have lived to about 140, or whatever it was... I'm beyond reach of reference books at the moment.

SPEARMEN
TALKING of sports, I get sick of those frogmen who hunt fish with spears and spearguns. They talk and write too much. The lonely life under the sea has made them garrulous, which is one symptom of loneliness. Also, they ruin the fishing, as the French are now finding out along the Riviera. And also, this is rather a good joke on them, fishing with spears is illegal in British Columbia. Laugh that off, my little frogmen. Or croak it off.

REFRESHING DRAUGHT

One wishes Ruth Enke's column appeared more often—it is such a refreshing draught amid all the turmoil of news in these troublesome times. With a husband and family to care for, it is surprising she finds time to gladden our hearts as she does and I know I am only one of the many who are thankful for what appears and I wish to tell her. Her Women Drivers, with the "shoot-ing stick" and "roseleaf" ladies, was priceless. I sent it off immediately so Eastern friends would know why we love our Victoria as it is. Would that it would ever retain its charm, but alas for rapid expansion and modern architecture. Thank you, Ruth Enke, CON AMORE.

THAT 'BRAHMA' BULL

In Kipling's book, "Kim," the wandering Buddhist lama sadly remarks that religions, in course of time, get overlaid with devilism, charms and idolatry. The projected rodeo announces the riding of a "Brahma" bull. To include an ordinary bull in Christian scenes of violence, insults not only other religion. The reverse is the case when the bull is announced as Brahma, a symbol sacred to millions of our fellow creatures; and the cause of bloody riots just a few days ago, in Calcutta. Brahminism, in its original purity, embraces not only the earth but the whole universe as well. GLADYS SHRAPNEL.

YOUTH'S ACCOLADE

In the challenge of Marilyn Bell we realize that life is no respecter of persons but surges forward with outstretched hands, one each for victor and vanquished alike. Win or lose, there is a hand to clasp.

Four human beings, representative of two great nations, plunge into Lake Ontario and streak for a distant shore, 32 miles away, governed only by the eager promptings of their own hearts and the spirit of the occasion. One alone is under contract, with freedom tugging at the elbows of the others, no competition having been arranged.

May it not be said that here was no ethical or mythical monopoly but a name written deep in the annals of our times: Flo. Chadwick! But would she of and by herself form a separate trust, to blot out the companionship of the rest, to leave them high and dry, while she would go on to win or lose, weeping to herself and to the world?

We do indeed honor Flo, with our love and affection, as befits a champion, a cousin from the south, a good sportsman but life itself will not down. One life sparks another and to victory. Could she in an ethical or mythical manner have drawn the water line? ALAN GREIG.

PREPARING RODEO ANIMALS

Is it possible for rodeo producers to "co-operate" with S.P.C.A.s so that cruelty is eliminated? No; these shows depend for their "thrill" on the violent reactions of the animals used. Very few horses or other animals, however, will repeatedly react violently to handling unless that handling is such that it inflicts pain or induces terror.

That is why animals are now especially "trained" for most of the bigger rodeo circuits, such training ensuring that they will hate and fear man. All this training, of course, takes place far from the sight of spectators. Clubbing and hazing with ropes are just two of the methods used by some suppliers of rodeo animals.

Where "untrained" semi-domestic stock is used, pain must be inflicted and other means taken to arouse the frenzy necessary for a "satisfactory" show.

At the time of the event, the much-vaunted rodeo rules demand that the rider spur his mount so as to ensure a "good ride." Yet our Criminal Code calls for the conviction of anyone who "unnecessarily abuses any animal."

Then there are the bucking straps jerked with savage force around sensitive underparts, the various painful methods employed to make animals "break" sharply from chutes and the ruthless "busting" of heavy steers and terrified calves in timed roping contests.

Is it not time we faced the fact that undesirable means, no matter how worthy the cause, can never be justified? That is a principle which should never be overlooked these days when thinking persons everywhere are concerned about the breakdown in social ethics. A. F. DAVIES.

THY KINGDOM COME

I would like to comment, with your permission, on a letter by S. A. Whitfield in which he mentions, among other things, The Lord's Prayer, "Thy Kingdom Come."

Probably there is no prayer which has been repeated so often and which has been so misconstrued as this prayer.

Jesus was on earth when He instructed the people to thus pray, "Thy Kingdom Come."

The general thought of many people is that for us to come into God's Kingdom, we must die and go to some place called Heaven.

The facts are that He was instructing the people to pray for His Kingdom to come on this earth where we are now living.

At Isaiah 45:18 we read He (God) formed the earth to be inhabited.

At Psalm 37 we find out who it is who will inhabit it: "The meek shall inherit the earth." "Those who wait upon the Lord, their inheritance shall be forever."

It is stated at 1st Cor. 15:50, "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God (the Heavenly Kingdom). Then it must be that Jesus was telling the people to ask that the earth be formed into a kingdom where fleshly human beings could all live together in happiness.

This is made quite clear at John 8:51, where He says that "If a man lives according to His law, or keeps His sayings, he will never see death."

Too many take for granted what other people tell them about the Bible. At 2nd Timothy 2:15, St. Paul advises us to "Study to show yourself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Critical Decision on Quemoy

By JOSEPH and STEWART AISOP, From Washington

THE real nature of the crisis which caused President Eisenhower to summon an emergency meeting of the National Security Council is, as usual, muffled and hidden. Most people think that the crisis involves only the fate of the small Nationalist-held island of Quemoy, off the China coast which the Communists are preparing to attack.

Most people, understandably, are quite indifferent to Quemoy's fate. In fact, the decision now confronting the National Security Council closely involves the fate of Formosa and Chiang Kai-shek's government there. Indeed it involves the whole future balance of power in Asia.

The choice which the President and the NSC must make is whether to back up the well-entrenched Nationalist force on Quemoy with the air and naval power of the Seventh Fleet, or to let the island go to the Communists by default. The consequences of failing to support the Nationalists are quite foreseeable.

In the first place, Chiang's forces are, in a sense, a wasting asset. His troops are old already, by Oriental standards, and in another two or three years the Chinese Nationalist army will be an army of old men, of doubtful value to the non-Communist world.

Second, even now, the position on Formosa is far more politically precarious than it generally is recognized. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has always had a marked tendency, in times of trouble, to consign the efficient and honest men around him to outer darkness, and to surround himself with the palace favorites with whom he feels comfortable.

PLAYS POLITICAL FAVORITES

Late last June, after the fall of Dien Bien Phu, Chiang again displayed this curious characteristic. He dismissed the able army commander, Sun Li-jen, and replaced him with a political favorite, Huang Chi-chi. Huang is putty in the hands of the palace favorites, and palace politics is already having its demoralizing effect on the army. The same process is at work throughout the Nationalist government.

The process, so far, is dangerous but by no means fatal, yet the loss of Quemoy to the Communists, as a result of an American failure to support the Nationalists, will instantly and very greatly accelerate this process of political decay. The reason is very simple. The Chinese Nationalists have just one reason for existence—the hope of a return to the mainland. Already, Nationalist hopes have received two stunning blows, in the stalemate in Korea and the defeat for the West in Indo-China. The Communist capture of Quemoy would kill all hope on Formosa, since Quemoy is the essential stepping stone to the mainland.

With Quemoy in their hands, moreover, Amoy harbor will provide for the Communists an ideal staging area for a later attack on Formosa. But this might never become necessary. For the political disintegration on Formosa likely to follow the loss of Quemoy could lead in time to Communist conquest from within.

Nor does the Quemoy crisis end with Formosa. The Communist triumph in Indo-China, after so many brave words in Washington, has already made this country look suspiciously like a "paper tiger" to many non-Communist Asians. If the United States makes no attempt to prevent the Communist capture of Quemoy, this will be taken as a further and final demonstration of Communist power and American weakness and irresolution. Then, all over Asia, non-Communists will begin to run for cover.

Such are the stakes in the impending battle for the little island of Quemoy. Yet the risks of American intervention on Quemoy are also, it must be said, very great.

WELL WITHIN RANGE

Quemoy is hardly a stone's throw from the China coast. Because of the relatively limited range of carrier-based fighters, the Seventh Fleet's carriers would have to operate uncomfortably close to the Chinese mainland. They would be well within range of the 20 medium range IL-28 jet bombers in the Chinese air force.

Such risks have caused a familiar division in the Pentagon. One school believes that Quemoy can only be held if the United States is ready to attack the Chinese mainland, thus risking a third world war. Another school, reputedly including Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, believes that Quemoy can and must be held—and that if this country makes clear its intention to act if necessary, the Communists will not attack.

One official of this second school has put it this way: "Quemoy is an island. If Quemoy is allowed to go, all over Asia it will be said that American air and sea power is not enough to hold even an island against the Communists, and therefore America cannot hold anything, anywhere." The choice on Quemoy, in short, may determine whether or not the U.S. is to lose all power to influence events in Asia.

Deaths From Falls

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

According to the July, 1954, Statistical Bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, accidental falls rank among the leading causes of death. In the United States they account for loss of about 21,000 lives a year. This is greater than the toll of any other type of accident except those in which motor vehicles are involved. As I often think, if the 21,000 people who die in a year were all of them to die on the same day, there would be a tremendous uproar from the country, and people would say that something ought to be done about the situation. And for every fall that causes death there are several dozen that cause only a broken bone or a sprained back, with prolonged suffering, perhaps serious crippling, and enormous expense.

Dr. Alvarez

About two-thirds of all the fatal falls occur in and about the home. Interestingly, only about 3 per cent of all the deaths from accidental falls came in factories, workshops, mines and quarries. Today, few carpenters and painters fall off of scaffolds because these are made better, with a back-rail to them. The death rate from falls increases steadily from birth to old age, and it shows the biggest increase after the age of 45. Then the incidence of death increases rapidly with the age of the person, and especially after the age of 65 years.

As everyone knows, little children fall out of windows and off of porches; children a little older fall from roofs, swings, trees and fences. Older persons fall downstairs or slip on rugs or on polished floors, or in the dark they trip over things. Some, of course, slip on icy streets or on rough pavements. A high percentage of the fatal falls occur while old people are merely walking about in the house. Because they are weakened by age they can't catch themselves well when they start to fall. The housewife commonly falls badly after climbing up on a rickety chair or step-ladder.

REMEDIAL MEASURES

Obviously, some of the things that ought to be done are to put handrails on stairs, also to provide adequate illumination in and about the house, to anchor rugs with a rubber mat under them, and to keep stairs and passage-ways clear. If a mother going up to bed will only pick up the skate or golf ball which she sees lying on a stair, she may save the family some $5,000 in hospital bills.

Another easy way of getting killed is to fall off a bicycle in front of an auto. Every year some 600 lives of children are snuffed out by bicycle accidents.

While driving a car I always hate to pass a child on a bicycle because, many a time, I have had him either turn suddenly in front of me or else get frightened and fall off in front of me.

As one would expect, nine out of ten of these deaths occur among boys, usually between the ages of five and 19 years. Curiously, most of the deaths of the girls occur between the ages of 10 and 14 years. At least four out of five are due to a collision with a car. Children on a bike are too inclined to move suddenly from one lane to another without signaling. The other day I saw a boy on a bicycle suddenly make a U-turn on one of the busiest streets in the world; he just made it! Curiously, many fatalities are among elderly pedestrians who are run down by a cyclist.

Certainly, everyone in an automobile who is passing a child on a bicycle should be prepared for any startling thing that that child may do.

WHAT IS BOECK'S SARCOID?

People ask me what is Boeck's Sarcoid. Actually, it is a rare and poorly understood disease. We doctors do not know the cause, and we haven't any good treatment. It attacks the skin and a number of places within the body. The little nodules resemble those of tuberculosis; in fact, for years, the disease was thought to be a peculiar form of tuberculosis, but today I think many researchers have proved that it is not tuberculosis. Many men suspect that it is an infection, perhaps due to a virus. Fortunately, many of the victims recover. The other day I read something that suggests that the disease is due to a hereditary peculiarity. Some alike-twins, living a thousand miles apart, have come down with the disease at about the same time.

STRUCTURE OF AUREOMYCIN

The Lederle laboratories division of the American Cyanamid Company have recently reported that after four years of research their chemists have determined the structural formula of aureomycin. They know now what the molecule looks like, and they can make a model of it. This achievement is important because it throws light on how the antibiotics work in the body. This particular drug has the advantage that it can combine with both acid and alkaline substances. In this way it can easily form chemical salts which are soluble in the body fluids and the blood, and hence can go to every part of the body in which germs need to be combated. The new chemical is very similar in its structure to terramycin, another valuable antibiotic.

Logging Operator Quits Socreds on Woods Policy

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The provincial government's decision to grant a forest management license to Empire Mills will force nearly 60 families to sell their home in the Squamish area, a lumber operator said today.

Gerald R. Dent, 45, said he resigned his job as president of the Lillooet Social Credit League because "I cannot reconcile the actions of the government with the principle of Social Credit."

Dent said he would fight against a license being issued for Empire Mills, but "it looks hopeless now."

Mr. Dent is head of the Squamish Towing and Contracting Co. It is this firm and the B. & M. Logging Co., which reportedly were prepared to offer

'TOO MANY RELIGIOUS ILLITERATES'

U of T President Would Add Religion Department to Arts

TORONTO (BUP)—President Sidney Smith of the University of Toronto believes too many students graduate today as religious illiterates because there is no teaching to accompany the preaching.

He suggested a reappraisal of the university's position so that a department of religion might be included in the faculty of arts.

"Many of today's graduates are incapable of explaining and defending their own beliefs," Smith said Tuesday in an address to the Alumni Association of Wycliffe College, one of several groups of University of Toronto theological graduates meeting here for three days.

"What is even worse," he said, "they have notions of other religions which are preposterously silly."

"Why not establish in the faculty a section, even a department, where students could choose to learn better the sources of our religious roots?" The president believed most Canadians today were living on their development," he asked. "There would be no preaching their forefathers."

Kiwanis' Rapid Growth Outlined to Delegates

Secretary Sketches 40-Year History

Kiwanis International has grown in 40 years to major status, and today is one of the biggest service club organizations on this continent.

Speaking at Tuesday night's final dinner of the 37th annual Pacific Northwest convention—a function that overflowed three dining rooms, the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress, Crystal Garden's lower ballroom, and McEwen's—O. E. Peterson, Chicago, international secretary, said the organization founded at Detroit in 1915 now has 229,000 members in 3,865 clubs.

"Our activities have increased proportionately. Kiwanis, in 1953, raised some $14,000,000 for Community Chest, polio and other charities," he told the 1,400 convention delegates.

"More than 1,750,000 have attended Kiwanis youth centres and 325,000 youths have been given vocational guidance. There are 12,700 Kiwanians teaching Sunday school. Kiwanis has instituted more than 14,000 safety and courtesy campaigns. We have conducted 4,900 individual campaigns against Communism."

"In the field of agriculture Kiwanis has been active," Mr. Peterson said. "In the past year our organization has planted more than 2,000,000 trees."

Mr. Peterson paid high tribute to Victoria Kiwanis for their hospitality and praised local clubs' Kiwanis Village for aged people.

"You should be proud of completing such a wonderful project," he said.

International President Don Engdahl of Spokane told the delegates Kiwanis clubs of Canada and the United States have shown the world the way to international amity. All nations might well copy the friendship and understanding that exists between Canada and the United States, he said.

Earlier on Tuesday, the 19 Pacific Northwest divisions of the district elected lieutenant-governors.

Heading Division 1, of which Vancouver Island is part, is Dr. James McFadden of Port Angeles. He succeeds R. L. "Bert" McQuarrie of Victoria North Kiwanis.

Only one Canadian was elected. Ken McKenzie, New Westminster, became lieutenant-governor for Division 1A.

Other Washingtonians elected included: Joseph Epler of Seattle, Herbert Socolofsky of Parkland, Dan MacDonald of Chehalis, Dr. Charles Benson of Okanogan, Dr. Lee Cagle of Colville, Andy Anderson of Spokane, Clayton McKern of Newport, Jack Caldwell of Ellensburg, Glen York of Kelso, R. S. Brown of Pasco.

Lieutenant-governors from other states include: Dan Chapin, Lewiston, Idaho; Leonard Larson, Portland, Ore.; Wilbur Riddies-Barger, Eugene, Ore.; Verne Roake, Oregon City, Ore.; George Stone, Taft, Ore.; Ed. Dilley, Dale, Ore.; Harlow Hodson, Palmer, Alaska.

Achievement awards were made to clubs in Portland, West Seattle, Monroe, Kirkland and Kelowna.

20 NEW POLIO CASES HIT QUEBEC; 14 DIE

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (CP)—Twenty new cases of polio have been reported in the Lake St. John area, bringing to 200 the number of cases recorded in the last few months. There have been 14 deaths.

Hospital authorities said today the outbreak appeared to be on the wane until last week-end, when the new cases were reported.

Five children were taken to hospital Friday, five Saturday, one Sunday, three Monday and six Tuesday.

The victims have all been young children. Medical authorities renewed pleas to parents to consult a doctor quickly if their children show any symptoms of the disease.

Revolutionary Gadget Speeds Newspapers

Photographic Type-Composing Unit Does Away With Traditional Linotype Machines

QUINCY, Mass. (UP)—The first commercial installation of Photon, a revolutionary photographic type-composing machine, was announced today by the Quincy Patriot Ledger.

The Photon process imposes characters on rolls of film, and bypasses all present conventional processes of getting news from an editor's desk to the press room.

The Patriot Ledger installation, revealed today, has been under test at the newspaper, and specimens of the Photon machine's work have been appearing unobtrusively this week in the paper's pages alongside material set on traditional line-casting machines using hot metal.

Manufacturers of Photon claim that it works two and a half times faster than present type-setting processes, and is the most rapid process devised in the five-century history of movable type.

One book has been set on Photon, and a Bible for full publication is being set in the Cambridge, Mass., workshop of the Graphic Arts Research Foundation, Inc., an industry-supported, non-profit organization which has been functioning since 1949.

The Quincy Patriot Ledger's Photon experimentation is of particular significance in the newspaper-printing industry because the machine is being used in conjunction with another new printing development, the Dow Etcher.

The new etching equipment, developed by the Dow Chemical Co., in co-operation with the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, will etch the film from Photon on feather-weight magnesium plates with much greater speed than present processes. It is claimed that the fast etcher will complete a full-size newspaper page on a magnesium plate in two and a half minutes.

Translated into newspaper production, these processes mean that later-news will reach the reader faster through a substantially reduced time required in getting the news from source to street.

Peace Threat In Indo-China Seen Waning

PARIS (AP) — Agence France-Presse reported from Saigon today that Viet Nam's premier and army chief of staff have settled their quarrel, ending the immediate threat of a new outbreak of violence in the Indo-China state.

Premier Ngo Dinh Diem ordered the officer, Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, to quit his post last Saturday and take the first plane for France on a "study mission." Hinh refused and posted army guards in front of his residence and headquarters to prevent any move by the premier to arrest him.

The Saigon report said the two reached a "gentleman's agreement" Tuesday, under which Hinh will take a "short leave." But he will keep his army title, designate his temporary successor and choose the date of his departure.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms. Ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, those pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Tower Plunge Gives 3 Men Wild Ride

CALGARY (CP)—Two technicians escaped death Tuesday when the 75-foot television antenna of Calgary's CHCT-TV station plunged 375 feet and buried itself eight feet in the ground.

Ronald Bernier of Quebec and Harold Reid of Vermont were perched on the station's 600-foot tower when a faulty winch cable snapped while the five-ton antenna was being raised to the top of the structure.

Station officials considered it miraculous the two men had escaped injury. Had the antenna fallen against a restraining guy wire, they said, it would almost certainly have come crashing to the ground. As it was the antenna merely glanced off the guy wire.

As soon as the cable snapped, Bernier, who was perched at the 500-foot level, and Reid, at 375 feet, swung to the outer side of the tower and clung for their lives as the tower swayed an estimated two or three feet each way.

Defense Workers Seek Pay Scale Adjustments

Recommendations for pay adjustments will be included in a brief to be carried to Ottawa on behalf of the National Defense Employees' Association, Vancouver Island branch.

Revision of salary structures were discussed at a meeting held here this week. Jack Carey, B.C. vice-president and organizer, commented after the meeting that in some cases employees elevated to new positions "get less pay than they did in their former jobs." He and James Bryant, vice-president of the national association, will take the brief to the national capital.

A Bank is useful in so many ways...

At a bank, you can keep important papers and other valuables in a private safety deposit box.

Travellers Cheques and Letters of Credit provide a safe, handy source of funds when you travel.

A bank helps you do business at a distance; sells 'exchange, transfers funds, makes collections.

A bank is much more than just a place to cash a cheque or deposit your savings. The many services it provides are designed to help you handle money matters more simply, safely, easily. You will find bank people courteous and efficient in handling routine banking matters and helpful, too, when unusual problems arise. Don't hesitate to "see the bank about it."

700 LINE UP TO REGISTER AT UNIVERSITY

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than 700 freshmen lined up at the University of British Columbia here Tuesday for the first day of registration for the fall term.

Some of the more hardy took blankets and thermos bottles of coffee and camped on the lawn long before sunrise to get a good spot in the line-up. Others struggled in during the forenoon and took their chances.

University officials have said they expect more than 1,000 new students for figures that could make UBC the second largest English-speaking university in Canada, topped only by the University of Toronto.

New RCN Minesweeper Will Be Commissioned

OTTAWA (BUP)—The new Royal Canadian Navy minesweeper Resolute, the first ship to be built in Kingston, Ont., since the Second World War, will be commissioned Thursday, the navy announced today.

The 152-foot wooden vessel will be handed over to RCN officers by Kingston Shipyards Ltd., and placed under command of Lt.-Cmdr. J. L. Panbaker of Windsor, Ont. She will join the first Canadian minesweeping squadron on the east coast.

The Resolute is named after Resolute Bay on Cornwallis Island in the Canadian Arctic.

Victoria Acquires New Station

Victoria becomes a major rail terminal in a small way, this week-end.

Approximately 150 model railroaders from as far away as Saskatchewan, Alaska and Oregon will converge here for the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Region, National Model Railroad Association Inc. convention Saturday and Sunday.

On Friday evening the model men will have tracks set up and trains running "on time" in the Empress Hotel. The display is expected to be in operation about 7 p.m.

The group last met here in 1950.

The CNR will establish a "first" during the convention, operating a full-fledged passenger train on the Island for a special one-day excursion to Dersholm. Locomotive 2100 will pull the six passenger cars to be brought from the mainland. One of the cars will be of the observation type used in the Rockies.

Saturday night the railroad enthusiasts will banquet at the Empress. Sunday will be devoted to lectures, discussions on railroading and visiting model railroads of Victorians.

The club here has about 30 members and several track and train layouts.

Authors' Association Hears of Convention

Victoria branch of Canadian Authors' Association has gained new respect from the parent body, members were told at their September meeting.

Report of the recent annual convention at Banff was made by T. K. Willis, president of the Victoria branch; Mrs. Mary Carr Wright, secretary; Mrs. Georgina Luske and Mrs. Rosalie Heywood, executive members, who attended.

Mrs. Wright was on a convention panel which discussed "The Juvenile Story," and Mr. Willis spoke on "The Short Story." Executive members related that those present from other parts of Canada received the Victorian speakers very favorably, and "definitely made the rest of Canada aware" of the local group.

Mr. Willis, also a member of the national executive, reported that the association plans to erect a monument in Banff to John Murray Gibbon, first president of the organization.

Windsor Man Sentenced to Hang For Killing Woman

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (BUP)—Michael Kumzac, 48, Windsor, Ont., was sentenced yesterday to be hanged Dec. 7 for the murder of Mrs. Minnie Engel, 44. Mrs. Engel was stabbed to death May 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Degnagar on the outskirts of the city. Kumzac was arrested in the six-mile coulee, just south of the city, a few hours later by city police and RCMP who tracked him down with the aid of a police dog.

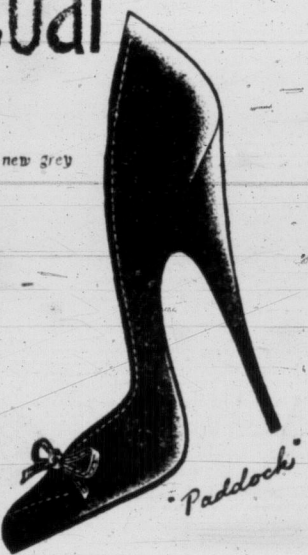

Kumzac testified at the opening of the Supreme Court trial that he and Mrs. Engel had planned to get married, but had often quarrelled. On the morning of the killing, he said, Mrs. Engel had threatened him with a knife. He said while trying to wrench it from her hand, the fatal wound was inflicted.

Removing Annuals Needs Early Start

By HILDA BEASTALL

One of the difficult tasks for September is discarding the summer annuals to prepare for the planting of the spring border or beds. But since it must be done, it is well to start early.

Remove all the annual plants, whether they have finished blooming or not. They will make good compost. Then dig over the area thoroughly, removing any weed roots which may be present. Roots of the annuals may be chopped up for fibre during the digging.

Rake over the area to eliminate hollows where winter rain may collect. A little bone meal may be used in each planting hole, since it will become available to the plants in the spring. No other fertilizer should be added in the fall.

A combination of spring bulbs and biennials such as wallflowers and forget-me-nots is always satisfactory. It is suitable for either new gardens which have no sheltering trees or shrubs, or for established gardens enjoying the protection of evergreens.

Purchase stocky plants, they will respond to good culture. Firm planting is essential for wallflowers. Many failures in bloom may be traced to the winter winds rocking the plants on their roots.

Plant the bulbs in groups of the same kind. The effect is much more satisfying. With a group of yellow daffodils plant half a dozen blue Chionodoxa (glory-of-the-snow), which latter flower here at the mid-daffodil season.

Snowdrops and early crocuses give color in the beds during the first part of the year, and blue and white Muscari (grape hyacinth) carry on until tulip time.

This Friday and Saturday see the display of fall flowers in the Victoria Horticultural Society's show at the Crystal Garden.

Renewed Sport Action To Tax YMCA Building

B.E.G. Games Stimulated Interest in Track, Field and Swimming, Director States

By AB KENT

Growing need for a new YMCA building in Victoria is expected to make forcible impact this winter when new enthusiasm for physical recreation taxes current facilities.

Increased interest has been due in large part to British Empire Games and Florence Chadwick's Strait attempt this year. Physical Training Director Archie McKinnon said today.

Competitive sports, such as track and field, and swimming have not been strong points with the local "Y" for several seasons.

Reasons have been lack of talent and finances for out-of-town meets, said McKinnon. But because of the two big athletic events of the summer, talent is not expected to be a problem this year.

START OCT. 1

Even in past years, he said, facility limitations have meant that would-be athletes have not had the opportunity to take YMCA training. This year, many more will be turned away.

Redevelopment of three main YMCA facilities is being carried out now in preparation for the fall program, which starts about October 1.

The gymnasium, swimming pool and Mural Room are all being renovated in attractive colors, while certain repair work in the pool and gym will put both of these in top condition.

RENOVATION

New plaster work on pool walls, a refinished bottom and relining, together with a complete overhaul of filtering and heating equipment will ensure a safe, clean pool for beginners and amateur swimmers.

Attention is being given to gymnastic equipment, including re-rigging of mechanical exercisers and cleaning of tumbling mats. Gym floor will probably be revarnished, to join the previous color combination on walls and white ceiling to provide better lighting.

The crafts program this winter is expected to be the most popular of winter activities. Weekly old-time dance classes will be started Saturday.

Vancouver Flier Victim of Crash

CHATHAM, N.B. (CP) — The RCAF today identified the pilot of an F86 jet fighter which crashed Tuesday into Northumberland Strait as PO John Thomas Mitchell, 34, of Vancouver.

It said Mitchell was on a routine flight when the accident happened. His body was recovered today.

A veteran of the Second World War, Mitchell had been an instructor at Penhold, Alta., before coming to Chatham on a course. He is survived by his widow and two children at Red Deer, Alta.

Happy With Results Attlee Unrepentant

Answers Critics of China Visit; Help to World Peace, He Claims

EDITOR'S NOTE: Former British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee has just concluded a three-week tour of Communist China, which included a stopover in Moscow en route. Leading a Labor party delegation of others, his aim was "to learn as much as I can about what conditions really are in the Far East and to see what we can do to help them."

By THE RT. HON. CLEMENT R. ATLEE

SYDNEY—Instead of going by plane we traveled from Shanghai to Hangchow by rail. Hangchow is an ancient city of over 600,000 people, far less touched by the West than either Peking or Mukden. We were informed that there were over 17,000 retail businesses—one shop to every 40 inhabitants—in the city. There are quite a number of factories in the town, especially in the silk and jute industries, but the pride of the city is its lake.

It was a pleasant relief to go on the lake after our long train journey during the course of which the temperature in our compartment seldom went below 90 degrees. We stayed a day in a pleasant guest house, and were rowed out to visit sundry temples. One of the largest and most famous was being repaired by the government, which is careful of its historic monuments. Others were still in active use, with a Buddhist monk in attendance and loss sticks being burned before the shrine of Buddha.

Altogether the place left a very pleasant impression of peace and beauty, with glimpses of a Chinese landscape such as one sees in paintings.

From Hangchow we flew to Canton. Because of the activity of Chiang Kai-shek's air force we did not go by the short coast route, but made a wide detour. In the course of this flight we crossed another great flooded area, due, I gathered, to the overflow of a lake. One of my colleagues checked the time and noted that it took a full hour to cross the area, which means the floods extended for 200 miles. This was the third big flooded area we had seen. Hundreds of thousands of people must be involved, yet this is not considered one of the serious flood years.

Later, we passed over very broken and hilly country, with the hillsides terraced with amazing labor. We travelled over considerable areas and yet had left so much of China unvisited. The more one travels the more is one impressed by the immense task facing any government.

River Population, Canton Feature

Canton has many distinctive features. The houses, generally speaking, are more lofty than those in Peking and the streets are arcaded. The upper stories, supported on big square pillars, jut out over the sidewalks, thus providing welcome shade. It recalled to me the arcaded streets of Bologna. And there is more greenery in Canton than in any other city we visited except Peking.

But, of course, the most particular feature of Canton is the river population. More than 56,000 people live in boats. The mayor took me up the river in a launch to see them. Some of the boats look like very old and battered Oxford College barges, others are quite small sampans, but there was an infinite variety, as if numbers of people had been trying to build an imitation of Noah's Ark.

Most of them seemed to be inhabited by families, some being stationary, others being propelled by various members of the family. Sometimes a small boy and an old granny was tugging at the same sweep, sometimes a small girl seemed to be in charge. Everywhere there were babies. Women here seemed to do a great deal of the hard work; indeed, it is said that the women of Kwantung Province work harder than the men. Many of them carried their babies slung behind their backs and not infrequently small girls were seen with a large baby carried apparently without undue strain on their backs.

Memory of Sun Yat-sen Revered

Among the river craft are restaurants and shops and a municipal fire service. It is, in fact, a complete town on the water, while on the shore are government offices which cater for the needs of this Communist community. I asked what was the effect on the river of the discharge of sewage from this great collection of floating homes and whether it was not very unsanitary, but apparently there were no marked ill effects.

Canton is celebrated for the great reformer Sun Yat-sen. There is a fine park, tall column and a great concert hall erected to his memory. As the man who overthrew the Manchu regime and originated the Kuomintang in the days when it stood for reform, he is a point of unity for all Chinese. His statue, dressed rather incongruously in a frock coat, stands in front of the memorial hall.

A long train journey in very people who know China well and have had long experience in the Far East agree with this view.

I hope that the relaxation of tension, which we observed during our visit, will continue and that intercourse between the Chinese and Western peoples will expand.

$40,000 BIRD FLYING AROUND

BOGOTA, Colombia (Reuters)—A tame pigeon swallowed a diamond and emeralds worth $40,000 and flew away here. The daughter of Francisco Tulande, Bolivian millionaire, was playing with the stones in her garden when the bird suddenly snatched them.

$12,000 ERROR BY BANK

Court Halts Spending Spree

VANCOUVER (CP) — It took Emil Anderson of Chase, B.C., by surprise last January when the Bank of Commerce told him by letter he had a bank balance of $12,000.

There was only one slip. The letter should have gone to an Emil Anderson in Salmon Arm, B.C., who had since left for Sweden.

But Emil Anderson of Chase immediately moved to Vancouver and started cashing cheques on his balance. Six weeks ago he was sentenced to two months on a drunk charge and the spending spree caught up with him.

In police court Tuesday, he pleaded guilty to obtaining more than $7,500 by false pretences.

Anderson told Magistrate Gordon Scott he thought the money was rightly his.

"According to your story, you are not guilty," said the magistrate. "Strike the plea of guilty out and we'll put this over for a week."

The Coach and His Dream

Shamrock coach Red McMillan slept fitfully last night as a shining image kept crossing his thoughts about the Peterborough Trailermen. However, reality returns tonight as the Rocks and Trailermen open their best-of-seven series for the lacrosse championship of Canada and the image Red dreamed of—the Mann Cup. (Halket)

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

A letter from home to the Rocks. Never knew it rained in Ontario, huh? And those Ontario boys will keep on telling you the same old tale, if you let 'em.

Why, we can remember, and so can Fergie, back in 1950 when the Adanacs went east and swam to and from the Maple Leaf Gardens for their Mann Cup joust of that year with Owen Sound, the water was so deep outside the gardens every taxi came equipped with dinghy.

Say, come to think of it, if you're looking for another spare part to that machine of yours, you might keep your peepers trained on the stands... we wouldn't be surprised if Darrell Popham (you'll surely remember him) is somewhere in the area. And so is Ernie Fox, the former public address announcer at the arena. They might even take in the series. It's 5-1 one shows.

Meanwhile, let's face it. Everyone out here is jealous that they can't be with you. And fellows will you keep our lad Denny Boyd away from those muskies. He caught two salmon one day this year and we haven't heard the end of it. Thought you might like to know, too, that the coho are starting to show around Qualicum.

If you want more information on this when you come home, better check with your old side-kick Duff McHugh. That's the extent of his sporting output these days. You can tell Boyd, too, that there's a pretty handy football fellow in town that maybe the Drakes could use. From what we hear, his name is Bill Pearce and he has six years junior experience at Regina behind him. The guy doubles at hockey, too, having once been a teammate of Tony Schneider of the Cougars and before that was with Paul Masnick, now of the Canadiens. Tommy Deuce will likely be interested in the fact that Porters Pebble copped the Goodwood Park handicap at Lansdowne. The reason we note this for your attention is that Porters Pebble is a Victoria-owned and bred horse as co-owners Ray Masters and Mrs. Millie Leazer will certainly bear witness.

The Victoria City soccer club gets its baptism Saturday fellows and we know you'll be interested because one guy that can't play because of injuries is doing his bit in another way. Wally Milligan will be selling season's tickets at the gate. Ab Travis isn't yet in-strip because the mood left him for a while after that gruelling series with Edmonton as a member of the North Shore club.

And you know what? We're going to bust that little secret about the B.C. Cement Co., too. They've never asked for a thing all year, despite the fact their name is on your jerseys. And we sure think it was swell of them to toss in that stuff that will take care of your incidental expenses on the trip. Nice guys, eh?

RICHARDS QUILTS SOX; TAKES ORIOLE POST

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Richards quit as manager of Chicago White Sox Tuesday to become general manager of Baltimore Orioles and was immediately succeeded by coach Marty Marion for the remainder of this season and 1955.

Marion is former manager of St. Louis Cardinals and St. Louis Browns.

Richards, who kept the third-place Sox in the American League's first division in his four Chicago seasons, said he had come to terms with Orioles "to run the whole thing."

Pony League baseball, under sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will probably make its debut in Victoria next spring.

OAKS, STARS LEAD PCL PLAYOFFS

The champion San Diego Padres took a shellacking but runner-up Hollywood came out on top Tuesday night in the first games of the Pacific Coast League Governor's Cup playoffs.

Third-place Oakland whipped San Diego, 4-1, at San Diego, while Hollywood trimmed fourth-place San Francisco 5-3 at Hollywood. The second games in the two-of-three series are scheduled Wednesday night.

Toski Tops In Golf Gold

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Toski, the splinter-like pro from Livingston, N.J., has clinched the 1954 United States Professional Golfers' Association money-winning crown—and also has moved into the Ryder Cup lead.

The official U.S. PGA statistics chart Tuesday showed Toski with earnings of $65,240 after a $30,000 boost by taking first money in the "Tan O'Shanter" world championship last month.

The little 27-year-old better, who currently is on a South American and Australian tour, has piled up 408 1/2 points in Ryder Cup competition over the season, leading Tommy Bolt with 373 1/2 and Cary Middlecott with 338 1/2.

Jack Burke, Jr., is second to Toski on the money-winning list with $19,563. Less than $9,000 separates the second and 20th money-winners.

POOR EZ!

Odds Against Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Determined Ezzard Charles gets a second crack at heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano in Yankee Stadium tonight, and the odds are 1 to 5 that he'll get whipped again.

The 33-year-old ex-champion from Cincinnati went the full 15 rounds with the powerful Brockton blaster from Massachusetts June 17, but the return figures to be a short and explosive battle.

Most experts feel Charles will have to shoot the works quickly in the hopes of stopping the ever-pressing champion and that, instead of scoring, he will be chopped down by Marciano's savage swings. The pick here is Rocky by a knockout within eight rounds.

ODDS ON MARCIANO

The betting is 5 to 12 that the 30-year-old champion will stop the perennial challenger and wreck his unprecedented third bid to become the first ex-king to regain the heavy-weight throne. You can get 6 to 1 if you think Charles will stop Marciano.

They'll start swinging at 7:30 p.m., PDT, before some 46,000 fans. Promoter Jim Norris, encouraged by a brisk ticket sale Tuesday and by a favorable forecast of "fair and partly cloudy at the worst," still hopes to do $325,000 and upwards at the gate. The last one lured 47,583 of the faithful and grossed $343,092. If the fight is postponed by rain, it will be held Thursday.

Coast-to-coast closed-circuit television to a record 70 theatres in 50 cities may add another $200,000 to the NBC coffers. There will be no home television. CBS radio will broadcast the fight.

Hockey-Minded Mayor Gets Behind Cataracts

MONTREAL (CP)—The defunct Shawinigan Falls Cataracts likely will be the sixth team in the Quebec Hockey League this season, Mayor Gaston Hardy of Shawinigan led a QHL meeting here Tuesday night.

The hockey-minded mayor whose all-out campaign to raise a club has resulted in a $35,000 guarantee in season ticket sales in the town, said he will have a "definite decision" about the Cataracts' entry by tonight.

Jimmy's Pals To Toss Party Tonight Anyway

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jimmy Dykes, baseball veteran of 37 years, will be honored tonight for doing a job he has lost.

The friends he quickly won after coming to Baltimore as manager of the new American League Orioles this season had decided to throw a party several weeks ago when it was obvious he might not last long. They called it Jimmy Dykes Appreciation Night.

"A small group of fans who have sat in the stands for every game in the season and have watched him squirm on third base while the team has lost many close ones," is the way the appreciative sponsors describe themselves.

Shamrocks Will 'Take a Chance'

With the Rocks

By DENNY BOYD

PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—Things were looking up today in regards to Miller Bowl, the outdoor, dirt-surfaced playing area where the Mann Cup lacrosse championship is scheduled to start tonight.

All Tuesday, workmen hustled over the bowl, dumping dry sand and raking it over the wet spots to absorb the water that had collected during a heavy rainfall. In addition, extensive repairs were being made to the boards, many of which were broken and splintered when the team arrived in Peterborough.

It now appears definite that the series may take longer than originally planned. The new schedule presented to the Shamrocks on their arrival has been approved and does not accommodate any Saturday night games unless there are rain-outs. This schedule calls for games tonight, Friday and next week on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

The Shamrocks have certainly been well received in Peterborough—something that the upper-upper brass of Victoria could remember the next time a visiting team comes to the West.

On the entertainment schedule are banquets, fishing trips and an official welcome by the mayor.

Arrangements are also being made to supply passes to any theatre.

Some of the fellows will be taken to Toronto Saturday to see the football game between Argos and Ottawa. (I'll be che, for sure).

Red and Jake Real 'Palsy'

It is certainly a rare sight to see Red McMillan and Jake Proctor dining together.

After cussing, screaming and mentally destroying each other all season, the respective coaches of the Shamrocks and Indians break bread together with a "PASS THE BREAD PLEASE, JAKE" and a "WHY CERTAINLY RED, HERE'S THE BITTER, TOO."

However, Jake and Red are themselves when at opposite ends of a ping-pong table, just one of the recreational facilities supplied for them at the lovely South Beach Hotel.

Also popular is poker, television watching and plain loafing and lie-telling in the big sitting room.

Jim Hetherington was the first of the party to go fishing. He bought 12 live minnows for a dollar but got skunked. However, Jim is determined to catch one of Ontario's famous muskies before returning home.

Bob Monaghan and Jackie Thompson won the sleeping derby here Tuesday, not moving out of their sacks until 3 in the afternoon. However, Arnie Duggan was up, dressed and watching TV at 7:30.

Now Just What Did He Mean?

Tuesday afternoon Rocks worked out at a small indoor arena and had a practice slated for Miller Bowl this morning.

But they're beginning to wonder about certain things.

They were told by a rabid Peterborough fan in town: "We don't play rules back here, we play Canadian rules."

Peterborough is a beautiful city, with its brick houses, all as clean as a whistle, and tree-lined streets. Rivers and canals are all around the city and helps the westerners forget they are far removed from the ocean.

Rumor has it that the Ontario Lacrosse Association is on shakier legs than the Intercity Lacrosse League. St. Catharines is reported to have lost $3,000 this season and interest all through Ontario is said to be waning in what once was the king of sports here.

MEETS BRITISH THREAT

Marlene's Chores Get No Easier

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (UP)—Canadian champ from Fonthill, Ont., powered her way past two rivals Tuesday, eliminating Mrs. John C. Capers, Jr., Ardmore, Pa., 4 and 3, in a second-round match and Pat Devany, Grosse Isle, Mich., 3 and 2, in the third round.

Her opponent today was the top Britisher left in the tournament. British champion Frances Stephens was knocked out Tuesday in the biggest upset of the day by Virginia Denney, Lake Forest, Ill., one up.

Miss Fahuk hammered out an easy 7 and 5, second-round victory over Mrs. Sam Damon, Honolulu, and went on to edge Greta Leone, West Chicago, Ill., 2 and 1, in the third round.

Miss Denney, lightly regarded in most pre-tournament forecasts, fought her way back from a 3-down deficit on the 13th hole to nip the British champion on the 18th.

The downfall of Miss Stephens left Miss Biggood as the top challenger from England. However, 19-year-old Janette S. Robertson of Scotland, also a British Curtis Cup star, emerged a strong threat after routing Belgian champion Arlette Jaquet, 7 and 6, in the third round. Miss Biggood eliminated Mrs. F. G. Weir, Pittsburgh, 6 and 4.

It's the second time in as many seasons that Dykes has been removed as manager of an American League club. The Philadelphia Athletics summarily dismissed him at the end of last season after three years.

MARATHONER DIES

LONDON (AP)—Charlie Hart, 87-year-old British marathoner who claimed to have run nearly a million miles in his life, died Sunday.

Agree To Try Gravel Floor

By DENNY BOYD

PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—Victoria Shamrocks are going to take a chance.

That was the decision the club management arrived at Tuesday concerning the outdoor bowl here, after for a time threatening to ask for the series to be moved elsewhere.

The Irish, after seeing the efforts of the ground crew to put the playing surface in shape, have agreed to play the series (at least this opening part of it) on the dirt surface.

The mud has gone now, but in its place is gravel. The better to soak up the water, that's why.

Tuesday the ground crew spent most of the day rolling the floor and filling in the holes dug Monday to drain off the excess water.

Down here the Poles are favored, but the Rocks are feared for the series opening tonight.

Eastern observers feel that the Irish are much improved over last year, but they point to the fact that the Trailermen have picked up as replacements three of the top players in the OLA, and their acquisition could be the difference.

The players are Jim McNulty, OLA scoring champion, Tony D'Amico and Jim Bradshaw.

It is also believed that the Rocks will find the dirt floor strange for at least the first two games.

The Rocks will be at full strength, although coach Red McMillan, up until last night, had declined to name his starting line-up.

HONORARY POST

Richards Invited To Laurel

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Sir Gordon Richards, England's greatest jockey, and Never Say Die, an American horse that won two of Britain's biggest races this year, were invited Tuesday by Laurel to come to their international on Nov. 3.

Richards, who retired last month with a modern record of 4,870 winners, was asked to be honorary steward.

Robert Sterling Clark of Upperville, Va., was invited to race his Never Say Die in the $65,000 mile and a half turf event. Never Say Die won the St. Leger race at Doncaster, England, Saturday and had been first in the Espom Derby in June.

It was the first time in 73 years that an American-bred won both of England's classics.

Saanich Seeks Title Tonight

Saanich will be bidding to retain the British Columbia ban-farm lacrosse title and accompanying Byron Johnson Trophy tonight at 8:30 at Memorial Arena when they meet Vancouver Renfrew in a sudden-death championship contest.

Saanich line-up follows:

Mrs. Barnes Tops Medal Golf Round

Mrs. R. Barnes took both low gross and low net honors in this month's medal competition for golfers with handicaps of 15 and under.

Mrs. Barnes had a gross 91 and net 91-83. She tied with Mrs. S. Weston for low net. Mrs. Weston had a score of 93-10-83. Miss Margaret Mahoney was runner-up with 94-9-83.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians started accepting mail orders Tuesday for world series games to be played at Municipal Stadium Oct. 1, 2 and 3, if the Tribe wins the pennant.

Orders must be postmarked not later than Friday, Sept. 17, and no order for more than two strips of tickets will be accepted.

All tickets will be sold in sets of three—one for each game. Box seats cost $10 each, or $30 a strip. Reserved seats sell at $7, or $21 a strip.

Applications, with the full name and address printed or typewritten, should be sent to "world series office, Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, 14, Ohio."

A self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp must be enclosed.

To order reserved seats, enclose a post office money order, certified cheque or official bank cheque payable to the Cleveland Baseball Co. If the order is for one strip, send $6; if it is for two strips, send $13. One dollar covers registration, mail and handling costs.

To order box seats, follow the same instructions, but enclose an additional $9 if the order is for one strip of tickets or $18 if for two.

Box seats are limited and the two refundances will enable the club to necessary, to fill box-seat orders with reserved seats. That case, the club said it would return the cheque covering the additional charges for box seats.

City Booters Should Boot Better

It will be easier to follow the bouncing ball here Saturday when newly-formed Victoria City make their debut in the Coast Soccer League.

Pollard Gains In Grid Race; Miner Leads

WINNIPEG (CP) — Fullback Howard Waugh of Calgary Stampede and half Al Pollard of the B.C. Lions show the biggest gains in the individual scoring race in the Western Interprovincial Football Union following weekend games, but the Stampede's Tom Miner still holds a comfortable lead. Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press show Miner, import tackle from Tulsa University, gained one point on runner-up Joe Aguirre of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Miner now has 42 points on 17 converts, eight field goals and a single. Aguirre has 31 points, six better than Calgary end Rupe Andrews, who failed to notch a point. But Waugh, also from Tulsa, picked up three touchdowns in his last two games to boost his point total to 20.

Starting fullbacks will be chosen from Bill Hope, Don Glass and Bert Ingram. Bill Bamford has also been signed to a team contract but is currently competing with Victoria Shamrocks at Peterborough in their bid for a Mann Cup lacrosse victory.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL. Five halfbacks have been turning out to practices with the club and have been showing well. Bill McMillan, John Pickburn, Dave Wakelyn, Dave Mello and Dick McLaren compose the list from which three starters will be named.

Cedric Robb, Tim Walker, Bob Clark, Harry Carruthers, Keith Todd, Whitey Turner and George Wright are forwards who have been signed for this season.

Park concessions are currently closed and it is doubtful if they will be re-opened by the Saturday game.

City will hold its last pre-season practice Thursday night at Athletic Park at 6:30. Season tickets will be on sale outside the park Saturday.

All children 14 years of age and under, accompanied by parents, will be allowed free admittance to the game.

HALIFAX (CP) — Armand Savoie of Montreal and Richard Kid Howard of Halifax will meet here Sept. 28 in a 12-round bout for the Canadian light-weight championship. The title, held by Lij Arthur King of Toronto, recently was declared vacant.

SEATTLE, Australia (BUP) — Unprecedented crowds of 22,500 will watch Davis Cup tennis competition here each day for the tournament's three days next December, it was reported today.

Davis Cup organizers said they were flooded with 34,000 requests for each day's play, but 12,000 hopefuls would have to have their money back. Each seat costs up to $18.54.

Lawn Tennis of Australia Association officials will meet next week to arrange the allocation

Indians Close to AL Title

As the National League pennant chase rushes to a climax, it becomes more evident that the three-game Brooklyn-New York series next week will decide the winner.

Milwaukee, for all intents and purposes, is out of the running. The Giants took care of that Tuesday night with a 2-1 victory over the Braves.

The Giants still lead the Brooks by 3½ games. Either, of course, could collapse before Monday when the set gets underway in Ebbets Field, but at the rate the two have been going it's hardly likely.

The main pressure is on Walt Alston's Dodgers. They can't afford to lose a game. Every one presents a crisis with them, for they have only 10 left to play. The Giants have 11. Actually, no matter what the Brooks do to the Giants, they can gain no more than three games, so they will need assistance from some other club.

COULD HELP BROOKS. If the Braves win the next two from the Giants, they could help the Brooks cause. From there on, the Giants play six games in a row with Philadelphia.

Brooklyn kept in the race Tuesday night with a 4-0 triumph over Cincinnati Redlegs behind the fine pitching of Johnny Podres. In "mean nothing" National League games, St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Phillies 5-2 and Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh split a doubleheader. The Cubs won the first 9-2 and the Pirates the nightcap 4-0.

In the American League, where it's all over but the shouting, the magic number for Cleveland Indians became two when they turned back Washington 5-2. Any combination of two New York Yankee defeats and the Indians are the league champions.

The Yanks, meanwhile, continued to play it out by crushing Detroit 11-0. Baltimore beat Boston 3-1 and Philadelphia A's shut out Chicago White Sox 1-0.

Kurt Keeps Crown; Grable Gets Lumps

Moving his heavy frame like a sack of potatoes falling up a down-sloper, the Proud Prussian, Kurt Von Hoppemeier, proved to 1,150 wrestling fans at Memorial Arena Friday night that he was still the junior light-heavyweight champion of the Pacific Coast.

After each winning fall (first and third) from Roger Mackay, the Proud Prussian would click his heels together and raise his arm while the crowd boomed and flung paper into the ring.

R. Mackay managed to take the second fall with a suplex hold. Mackay felt that he would have won it had it not been for "an old football injury in my leg."

In the semi-main event, wrestler-hypnotist Dr. Lee Grable was "mesmerized" to the mat with a body smash and rolling toe hold key lock from Johnny Demchuk the Ukrainian Thunderbolt.

During the final minutes of the third fall, Dr. Grable noticed Demchuk's shoe laces were untied. After Demchuk took a few seconds' time out the bell signalled for the fight to continue.

Dr. Grable, it says here, thinking the match had ended, was caught completely off guard by the Thunderbolt.

Buck Weaver pinned 206-pound Maurice La Chapelle in the special event.

It looked like the Flying Hoosier had La Chapelle with a neck twist and a neck lock but a number of fans thought it was some rather unorthodox tactics that gave Weaver the win.

LIONS NAME NEW 'GM'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Phil Webb, 31-year-old general manager for a construction equipment firm, Tuesday was appointed general manager of British Columbia Lions in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

The club, in announcing the appointment, said Webb will take some of the "front office" duties from the shoulders of Annis Stukus, who up to now had held the position in addition to his job as coach.

The switch will also allow import guard George Brown, recently removed from action to aid Stukus in his dual duties, to return to the active playing with the injury-beset club.

INVESTIGATION DUE

Hepburn Under Fire

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP) — The British Columbia branch of the amateur athletic union was to meet soon to discuss the amateur standing of Doug Hepburn.

Vancouver, world heavyweight weight-lifting champion, who is touring the interior of the province with a road show.

Robert Osborne, former president of the A.A.U., said Hepburn should be considered a professional. Ken McKenzie, British Columbia president, said he had called the meeting to discuss Hepburn's position after he learned that the hefty weight-lifter had gone on the tour.

It was reported that Hepburn had already signed a professional contract for the tour.

Anti-Rodeo Society Loses Cowichan Case

Rodeo Verdict Pleases City Kinsmen Club

Anti-Cruelty Group To Stay Active

A "not guilty of cruelty" verdict at Duncan Tuesday delivered after the trial of a Fraser Valley man who provided cattle for the Cowichan Exhibition rodeo last week, came as a relief to Vic-Van-Isle Kinsmen.

The Victoria club plans a rodeo at Western Speedway Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and Oct. 2 in aid of its charitable projects.

"This establishes the fact that rodeos are legal," said E. A. Bergeron, club president. "Barring any unforeseen accident, there can be no cruelty at properly conducted rodeos. We will abide by provincial statutes and SPCA regulations."

"Now we know we will be within the law when we put on a performance," he said.

Meanwhile, the Anti-Rodeo Society which seeks to ban rodeos on Vancouver Island, on the grounds that these shows sometimes lead to unnecessary abuses to animals, plans to hold a meeting in the near future to discuss the newest development.

Mrs. Judith Zach, president, said today the society would continue to oppose the staging of Wild West shows and would be always on the watch to protect animals against abuses.

Chemainus 'A' Juveniles Will Play Vancouver

CHEMAINUS — Community Centre juvenile "A" baseball team, Vancouver Island champions, will be out to garner further laurels here this week-end when they will play the Vancouver juveniles, mainland champions, in a best-of-three series for the B.C. title.

First game of the series will be played Saturday at 5 p.m. Sunday's games will be played at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Games have been scheduled early to allow the Vancouver club plenty of time to catch the boat back to the mainland.

Chemainus coach Allen Goldie rates his team every chance to win the title. Grahame Cave will pitch the first game, and Bob Hladky, who has pitched a no-hitter this year, and John Wilson, will start the other games.

Qualicum Couple Moves to Victoria

QUALICUM BEACH — A farewell surprise party for one of this community's old-time couples was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Munt for Mr. and Mrs. J. Stulman, who have left to make their home in Victoria.

They settled in Qualicum Beach in 1919. Mr. Stulman was caretaker of the elementary school here for 20 years, retiring at the end of the last school year. Their home here was the first school building on the townsite.

Langford First Aid Classes to Resume

LANGFORD — Junior first aid classes conducted by St. John Ambulance Association will be resumed Friday at 6:45 p.m. in Langford Fire Hall.

Instructor will be Mrs. J. Plumb.

For the next three weeks only the children attending the course before it disbanded in July will be accepted. It is hoped to complete training and tests within that time. Certificates will be presented during a special entertainment program.

Sooke Athletes Meet On Thursday at 8

SOOKE — A general meeting of Sooke Athletic Association will be held in the dining room of Sooke Community Hall Thursday at 8 p.m.

TOFINO — Austin Williams, Opitsat Reserve, was sentenced to six months in Oakalla, when he appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Bert Syms here on a charge of stealing a radio.

Stock Owners 'Not Guilty'; Costs Of Trial Charged to Complainants

DUNCAN — Three members of the Anti-Rodeo Society of Victoria lost their case Tuesday when charges of cruelty to animals used in the Cowichan Exhibition rodeo last week were dismissed by Magistrate A. C. Sutton.

The magistrate ordered that trial costs of almost $100 be paid by the complainants, Mrs. Judith Zach, Capt. James Barr and Mrs. Florence Barr.

Charges had been laid against Foss Hoy, owner of the horses and cattle used in the rodeo, and cowboys James R. Grant, Vancouver; George White, Surrey; David Perry, Cache Creek; and Roy Jeffery, North Burnaby.

Shortly before the trial closed William MacIntosh, a well known horseman, told the magistrate that women who wear girdles suffer more pain than stock used in rodeos.

Only one charge was heard during the four-hour trial. That was against Hoy of being the Heard Horse 'Gasp and Groan'

"I saw the bucking strap, this caused suffering, unnecessary suffering, which caused the flesh to bulge," she said that she also heard the horses "gasp and groan."

"Pinto Bill" was the name of a horse the witness stated she saw a cowboy mistreat. Mrs. Zach said that she saw the cowboy beat "Pinto Bill" from the chute until they passed where she was standing and that he was beating it across the shoulders.

She said the steers also wore buckstraps, and that they were "in pain from the buckstraps because after they had been ridden they were quite docile." Calving roping also was cited. She said that the contestants forced the calves against the fence of the arena and then roped them. "These men are not good with a rope," she said. Describing the process after the calf had been roped around the neck, she said it was "lifted in the air and thrown to the ground."

"This caused abuse—unnecessary abuse. This was done time and time again. All this was done in an extremely rough and unnecessarily brutal manner," she said.

Mrs. Zach explained how the animals were driven into the chute. "They use a hot-shot prod. I saw one being used and it gives an electric shock to the animal," she said.

Too Late for SPCA Complaint

Cross-examined by J. C. Davie, counsel for the accused, as to how much a calf weighed, witness said "about 60 pounds."

She would not admit that its weight could be between 250 and 350 pounds.

Asked if she was a member of the British Columbia SPCA, witness replied that she was, and also that it was incorporated by an act of Legislature. Mr. Davie asked her why she did not make her complaint to the local SPCA inspector, Mrs. Zach replied "because it was too late at night."

Other witnesses for the prosecution, conducted by Sgt. T. D. Brunton, RCMP, Duncan, were Capt. Barr and Mrs. Barr, who also told of "unnecessary abuse" to the animals.

"For the defense, George White said that at no time did any of the flesh of the animals bulge. If the buck strap had been too tight, the horse would have fallen down."

Mayor J. C. Wragg said he

Central Saanich Council Defies Reeve in Supporting Fire Chief

SAANICHTON — Central Saanich council Tuesday night automatically settled the volunteer fire department dispute simply by reversing its previous stand on the issue.

With Reeve Sydney Pickles strongly dissenting, the council passed a resolution restoring to fire chief Vic Heal the $600 fee for extra-curricular services and control of fire-permit issuance.

This had been the core of disension between fire department and council for some weeks, with the trouble threatening to develop into serious proportions.

The action followed the reading of a letter from the firemen's association which declined an offer by the council of $500 for recreational purposes.

The association indicated that it would prefer the restoration of the $50 monthly stipend to the chief to the recreational donation.

Reeve Pickles termed the letter "arrogant."

Clr. Willard Michell took issue with the reeve and contended that the money paid to the chief for extra services was well earned.

All the councillors voted for the restoration, with Reeve Pickles casting the negative vote.

R. Godfrey was present and submitted the case for the firemen's association.

Alexander Cuthbert and Victor J. Wood, representing Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce, asked council for its support on the proposal for installation of a lighting system in the Brentwood district.

It was stated that installation of 20 lights would cost $2,000, and under the local improvement act the ratepayers would contribute $3.50 a year or 30 cents a month. Cost of lighting per unit would be $24 annually. Council thought it a worthwhile project and approved the plan in principle.

CLAIM PAYMENTS

Permits will be issued on a 60-day basis, renewable at a dollar fee.

A letter from the legal firm of Heisterman, Manzer & Wootton was read, advising Central Saanich that legal action would be taken to recover the sum of $685 which Saanich municipality claims is owing in connection with a social assistance payment.

Reeve Pickles, who all along has indicated the case would be fought, reiterated that "we are not liable."

He mentioned that Central Saanich had a $115,000 equity in the Saanich water district on which no action had yet been taken.

"If they would settle for that, we might be able to meet them," he said.

Tape recordings of council meetings are "out" for the present. An operator attended Tuesday night's session with the recording equipment but the councillors ruled that it was unnecessary, in spite of Reeve Pickles agreeing to its use.

Central Saanich, has no intention of placing obstacles in the way of this development providing the sanitation by-laws are observed, he said. The matter came up through the application of a home builder who sought the permission of the council.

'YARDER' AT WORK

$16,000 Tug Joins Chemainus Fleet

CHEMAINUS—Newest addition to the growing fleet of tugs owned and operated by Chemainus Towing Co. is the nine-ton Gulf Yarder.

A big, rugged tug of all-steel construction, it was launched at Madill's Shipyards, Nanaimo.

The new workhorse of the 10-boat Chemainus Towing Co. fleet is the first all-steel tug built for and used by the local company. It is also the first boat built for them by the Nanaimo shipyard. The new boat represents an investment of around $16,000.

Of all-steel construction, the new tug is 30 feet long and has a 10-foot beam. It is semi-tunnelled at the stern, to enable it to work in shallow water. The tug is powered by a 165-horsepower G-M diesel engine.

It will operate out of Nanaimo, bringing the number of local tugs serving that area to three. The Gulf Yarder will be used to haul logs for Harmac storage booms. The Jerralou and the Saravan are the other two tugs working out of Nanaimo.

Three months in construction, the Gulf Yarder was launched two weeks ago. She was christened by Mrs. George Hemming, skipper of the new boat is Ron Springbett.

When the Chemainus Towing Co. started operations out of Chemainus in 1946, it had two small tugs. Today three work out of Nanaimo, six out of Chemainus and one out of Vancouver.

Most of the tugs are employed hauling logs to mill storage areas. Tugs operating out of Chemainus haul booms to the Chemainus River, storing age area for the local mill, and to Harmac, Nanaimo, where they are ground into chips.

Logs also are towed from Crofton to Harmac. In addition, local tugs tow big chipper scows, to Harmac regularly.

The Cowichan Yarder, which operates out of the Point Grey Towing Co. in Vancouver, is employed towing logs on the Fraser River.

Tugs operating from Chemainus are the Chemainus, Chemainus Yarder, Ravenhill, Sara II, Smith-Gibson and Jennifer.

The local towing company, operated by George Hemming, and Harmac Baillie, employs 17 men on the various tugs. Towing booms and yarding logs is rough on the tugs and one of the busiest employees is Barry Guilbridge, company shipwright, whose job it is to keep the tugs operating.

Brave Sea Cadet Wins Citation

Queen's Award for Saving
Pal From Beaver Lake Drowning

A Queen's Citation, Sea Cadet equivalent of mention in dispatches will be awarded Cadet Raymond Bell, Friday, for saving an 11-year-old from drowning at Beaver Lake last June.

Raymond, 15, a grade 10 Mount Douglas High School student, will receive the honor from Commodore Patrick Budge, RCN, commanding officer, HMCS Naden.

Gary Quick, 11, 4563 Wilkenson Road, sank to the lake bottom while trying to swim to a raft June 20. It was Raymond who dived, sighted the boy's red trunks and floundered with the inert form to the beach.

Leonard Mann, 32, a hospital orderly applied artificial respiration for half an hour before the boy responded.

Gary's mother said, "... they each deserve a medal."

The Victoria Rainbow Sea Cadets will muster a full dress parade at their drill hall at the foot of Robert Street for the event. It will be the first visit of Commodore Budge to the Sea Cadets since assuming command of Naden.

He will be met by Lieut. Cmdr. T. Arthur Dando, commanding officer of Rainbow, and other senior officers.

Three other members of the corps will be honored the same night. LS R. W. Scott, LS David Gurr and PO Ronald Walker will officially leave the corps to take naval officer's training under the new Venture plan.

Pleads Guilty To Assaulting Four-Year-Old

Charles Berry, 36, of 1460 Gladstone, pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of assaulting a four-year-old girl by beating her with a stick.

He was remanded to Sept. 22 for sentence. Magistrate H. C. Hall ordered a probation officer's report and also a report on Berry from a psychiatrist. The latter was requested by Prosecutor Alan Bigelow.

Tuesday night, Parks Commissioner W. H. Warren called police at 9:30 p.m. The alarm was jangling. The flower-snatcher squad rushed out to the greenhouses, disturbed a young couple, then sent them on their way, with a lecture.

The original charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm was withdrawn and replaced by the ordinary assault charge.

Court Considers Stiffer Penalty

THERE'S NOBODY HERE BUT US GERANIUMS!

Beacon Hill Park nursery has been visited so often by geranium rustlers that the parks board recently installed a home-made burglar alarm.

Tuesday night, Parks Commissioner W. H. Warren called police at 9:30 p.m. The alarm was jangling.

The flower-snatcher squad rushed out to the greenhouses, disturbed a young couple, then sent them on their way, with a lecture.

Forced From City Park, Baseball Amateurs Say

Playoff Game Transferred to Chemainus Because Athletic Park Costs 'Too High'

By RON COULTER

Amateur baseball leaders claim they've been forced to move out of Athletic Park.

Farmer Construction, scheduled to meet Chemainus in an Island playoff game here Sunday, have transferred the game to Chemainus because of what team manager Ed Ash calls "exorbitant City Hall prices."

Ash said today that a change in previous policy had put the cost of staging the series here "beyond reach."

He explained that in the past the park has been made available for the nominal cost of $10 a game and that members of the team had cleaned the stands before such games.

This enabled us to keep expenses to a minimum," he said, "and we were able to operate."

NO STIPULATIONS
Ash said that last week he asked for and obtained permission to use the park this Sunday and, as no stipulations were laid down, he believed the same charges would be in effect.

However, this week he was informed by a Parks Department official that other terms would have to be met.

These terms included $50 to have the football goalposts taken down, $10 for each of two games, and $275 per hour for men to clean the park and line the field.

Ash said he told park officials that the club could not possibly afford to pay that much for the use of the park, and said he was willing to take down the goal posts, with the help of his players, clean the stands, and put the posts back.

"All I got was a 'no,' Ash said, "and a veiled reference to 'union prices.'"

PARKS BOARD VIEWS
The parks department's explanation of the situation is that the baseball season, so far as Athletic Park is concerned, ended Sept. 1, and at that time the field was converted for soccer purposes.

As a soccer game is scheduled Saturday, workmen would have to be called in on Sunday to take down the goal posts, install bases and mark the field for baseball. Work performed on Sundays is paid for at double time.

The field would have to be restored for soccer afterwards. A parks department spokesman denied that the baseball players had offered to do any of the work themselves.

Ash asserted that under the stipulated terms the two games would cost his club "about $150," compared to $50 in the past.

"We can't afford it," he said. "That's why we must move the series to Chemainus."

Ash also intimated that unless some satisfactory agreement can be worked for the next year, senior amateur baseball may be a sport of the past.

"It's not worth it," he said, "the fighting and bickering at the time."

Drove Hired Car While Impaired; Gets $250 Fine

A 55-year-old Indian who drove a car owned by a man he had hired to motor him back to Port Renfrew, was fined $250 in city police court today on a charge of impaired driving.

Peter Mitchell was found guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Car in which Mitchell was the only front-seat occupant collided with a lamp standard at Yates and Douglas at 12:50 p.m. Sept. 10.

Officers testified Mitchell denied he was driving. But the other occupants, Mitchell's son and Alex Daniels, contradicted the accused.

Daniels testified he would not drive the car because he was drunk.

Mitchell did not give sworn evidence. From the prisoner's dock he told the magistrate he had given up his license 20 years ago when he started drinking. Mitchell said he hired Daniels to drive him to the up-Island port.

Educationists Join Policemen In Calling Lot 'Unhappy One'

EDMONTON (CP) — Blaming education officials for the problems of mass secondary education is like blaming a policeman for the number of cars on the road, a British Columbia government official said today.

Harold P. Johns of Victoria, director of educational and vocational guidance, told a forum on compulsory education at the Canadian Education Association convention that economic factors and living standards are the reason for more people owning cars than ever before. The policeman controlled neither factor.

Worse still, Mr. Johns added, the policeman is faced "with a situation that does not provide enough room on the road for sufficient cars to go in the various directions their drivers wish to go." Teachers were in a similar position with children.

Assault on Policeman Under Review

City prosecutor Alan Bigelow today asked B.C. Court of Appeal to impose a stiffer sentence on a man who pleaded guilty to assaulting a police officer, but Chief Justice Sloan said that in certain circumstances a fine was sufficient. Judgment was reserved.

Mr. Bigelow was appealing a sentence of Victoria magistrate H. C. Hall who fined Edward Robertson, 21, $75 for assaulting Sgt. Jack Mason in a Chinese restaurant on May 25. The sergeant suffered a cut above one eye and several bruises.

Robertson, who was not represented by counsel, said the sentence was sufficient as he had suffered enough as a result of the offence.

"The newspapers wrote a lot about the injuries of the police officer," he said, "but they didn't say anything about the wounds I suffered."

He told the court that a police officer took off his shoe and beat him over the face with it. He claimed also that officers twisted his leg.

"I lost my job, lost three teeth and received gashes about the face," he stated.

Mr. Bigelow, in reply, said the police must be protected.

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan said while it was usual to sentence a person who assaulted a police officer to a prison term, a fine was sufficient in certain circumstances.

The court reserved decision pending receipt of a probation officer's report.

The court will also deal this afternoon with the appeal for a stiffer penalty for Samuel P. Bottoms, also 21, who was fined $40 for assaulting another police officer while resisting arrest.

11 To Audition For Singing Stars Radio Program

At least 11 Victoria and Island singers will be auditioned here next weekend for a spot on the popular national radio show "Singing Stars of Tomorrow," sponsored by C-I-L.

John Adaskin, musical director of the show and promotion officer Don MacMillan will hear the assembly of talent. Auditions will be held at CJVI. To be heard will be Mimi Bavin, Adele Gault, Mrs. Sheila McCubbin, Kitty Dixon, Marlene Vance, Merna Jenkins, Shirley Main, Madonna McCabe and R. Allan Hushand, all of Victoria; Walter St. Martin, of Prospect Lake, and Marlene Treherne of Campbell River.

Victorians John Dunbar and Stanley Martin have already won high honors in the national singing competition.

'Measuring Tape' Case to Jury; Man Accused of Robbing Doctor

DOUG. GEORGE FOLLOWS FATHER AS PTA LEADER

Douglas A. George, 3034 Doncaster Drive, this week commenced his second term as president of Oaklands Parent-Teacher Association.

He was installed in office Monday night. Son of former mayor Percy E. George, of Public Utilities Commission, he is carrying on his father's interest in parent-teacher affairs. Ex-mayor George who helped establish the PTA movement here, was for 15 years an executive member of the Quadra PTA, and served also as president of the Victoria and District PTA Council and vice-president of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation.

His son has four sons, three attending Oaklands.

Gordon Head Offer Planned By Citizens

Would Keep Area for Development As Helipart Instead of Housing

A group of citizens may organize to purchase Gordon Head airport from the city and keep it for possible future use as a helicopter or landing field for light, private aircraft.

Capt. Burges J. Gadsden, city council's representative on the B.C. Aviation Council, said today that since council's decision to explore the possibility of disposing of the land as a site for housing development, a number of persons had protested to him it should be kept as it is for future aviation use.

Capt. Gadsden said he had been told a group was being formed which intended to make an offer to the city for purchase of the property. He declined to name any of the persons concerned, but said it appeared financial backing for their scheme appeared "quite certain."

"The group is worked up over the idea of the property being subdivided and as I understand it, it is prepared to offer the city an amount equal to what it paid for the property so that they may take it over for air-drome purposes," Capt. Gadsden said.

FOR FUTURE USE
He said he did not believe the group had any immediate plans for developing the property as an airfield, but was primarily concerned with keeping it for future airport use. He said it was proposed by the group to lease the field, just as the city now does, as a hay-growing area. This would provide for a return on its investment.

The city purchased the 37.6-acre field, opposite Gordon Head Army Camp, from the federal government in 1947. The price was $20,000 on the understanding that the property would be developed for "air-drome purposes only."

It is this amount the citizens' group apparently would offer this city.

SHIP'S CREW CHEERS CO

An impressive, heart-warming farewell was tendered Commodore Duncan L. Raymond, until today commanding officer of HMCS Ontario, when he left the ship shortly before noon.

Commodore Raymond is leaving to take up new duties in Ottawa.

As he crossed over the side after he relinquished his command, the entire ship's company gave him "caps off" and a hearty cheer.

WHEN ERRSTERS R REALLY READY, R YOU?

Selfless Shellfish Soon To End Summer Holiday

By TONY DICKASON

Oysters, sometimes pronounced "errsters," enter their "coming out season," just like debutantes, the end of this month.

And that slight crunchy, cracking sound you hear will be the parting of shells, revealing oysters in their own porcelain chalice, pearly grey tissue shimmering in the fluid that, to the gourmet, is the sweetest drink in the world, (it says here).

Some people with puerile palates hate oysters. That's fine with oysters. Nothing has been recorded about them really wanting to be eaten.

The season extends from September to May. During summer months oysters are edible, but have a tendency to taste like something not to be mentioned among saints.

A rough rule of thumb is that if a month has an "R" in it the mollusc can be consumed.

Pacific coast oysters come from the Orient; they're Japanese in origin. In the last two years one-fifth of the seed has had to be brought in from Japan. Breeding here isn't heavy enough to supply the market.

On the coast they are bred in Ladysmith harbor and Pendrell Sound in the north-east corner of the Strait of Georgia. Growing grounds are at Sooke, Crofton, in the Gulf Islands, at Boundary Bay and elsewhere. Oysters are shipped from breeding to growing grounds to retailer to consumer.

The sex life of the bivalve is very simple; so simple as a matter of fact that oysters spend much of their time in an "indifferent" phase. Males in the summer become females in the winter, in a self-contained and highly restrained approach to the subject.

Oysters are filter-feeders. They live on a dull diet of microscopic sea life called plankton. But out of this stuff they somehow take out themselves all sorts of vitamins, minerals, etc., which make them ideal food for humans.

A fighting-fit oyster, in shell, should weigh about four ounces. Shucked, it takes 160 oysters to make eight pounds.

To the amateur oyster opener the quiet little molluscs can prove quite a chore, a bit like trying to batter into the youngster's piggy bank. But to the professional it's easy: You insert the knife into the hinge of the shell at the end of the oyster. The oyster defects as the shell opens. Then you cut it free from shell.

Most persons pick oysters from the half-shell with a fork but the true connoisseur eats them right from the shell. Gourmets consider sauce of any sort an abomination.

Oysters can be kept in storage for months, and even grow fatter in this peculiar situation.

Eastern Canadian oysters from off the coast of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are generally smaller than their Pacific counterparts. And they don't seem as sweet.

However, yet to be popularized here are "oyster parties," which take place with alarming regularity in such cities as Montreal. The idea is to consume as many oysters, perhaps augmented by a little remedial malt, as the gastric juices can handle.

They're kind of fun, too, except for the oysters.

As the Encyclopaedia Britannica thus traces links from their earliest known beginnings: "The first links, dating from about 2,500 B.C., and used in the early Egyptian and Chinese civilizations, consisted of lamplblack ground with a solution of glue or gums. This mixture was moulded into sticks and allowed to dry. The sticks were mixed with water before use. Colored juices, extracts and suspensions of many plant, animal and mineral substances have been used as inks, including dragon's blood... indigo... pokeberries... and sepia."

Q.—The people of Asia Minor, Arabia, India and China used a form of India ink made in blocks. As all their writing was done with brushes, the ink was softened with water. I believe it was mainly composed of gum Arabic and lamplblack. Will you kindly tell me how it was made? —W.F.W.

ADVICE

As far as I can make out from the papers, the advisors of Marilyn Bell are advising her to stay out of school for a few years and make a few bucks in some easy racket, such as being a movie "actress" like Esther Williams.

Marilyn seems a little reluctant, and would just like to learn to drive her car and go to school with the rest of the kids.

Well, let's all get in on this advice racket.

My advice to you, Marilyn, is to advise your advisors to swim across Lake Ontario.

Under water.

When they come back, you might listen to what they have to say.

Meanwhile, advise them to sheddap, already.

PREDICTION

During the next week, 72 columnists will start their columns with these words:

"Open letter to Marilyn Bell. Dear Marilyn."

SPECULATION

If you stopped 100 people on the street today, and asked "what is Marilyn's last name?" how many would still say "Monroe?"

(Don't ask how many would say DiMaggio — that's cheating.)

CLARIFICATION

C. C. Inkster of Sidney writes to seek a fuller explanation of a sentence from Monday's Times.

The sentence: "For the first time this year, the season will end October 31."

Mr. Inkster wishes to know when the season will end for the second time this year on October 31?

VAGUE THOUGHT

When the limb fell off that oak tree in Beacon Hill Park, was anyone caught out on it?

NEW SOCIETY

Judging from evidence presented at the rodeo trial in Duncan, what we need is the SPCPP—Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to the Pleasingly Plump.

Chantal Singh, 2809 Nanaimo, and Radoo Singh, 790 Hillside, each was fined $10 in city police court today by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Both pleaded guilty to operating vehicles with loads extending over 15 feet from the rear axle, contrary to the city by-law.

Funeral Friday For Saanich Horse Breeder
Norman Isherwood, owner of the Angela Hotel and breeder of race horses, died here Tuesday. He was 56.

He had been a resident of Victoria for the past 13 years. Previously he had spent 30 years in Saskatoon. He was born in Manchester, Eng.

Mr. Isherwood owned a farm in Saanich where he bred horses. He raised American saddle horses for a time but in recent years concentrated on thoroughbreds.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Eleanor and Grace; one son, Norman; and two sisters, Alice and Mrs. F. Hallett, all residents of Victoria.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 at Christ Church Cathedral with Dean P. R. Beattie officiating. Chaplin's Funeral Chapel is in charge of arrangements. Interment will be at Royal Oak Burial Park.

In 1935 my friend, Sen. Humpton Clabbercutt, was appointed warden of a small prison back home. He never had trouble with prisoners breaking out, but he had an awful time with local fellows who kept trying to break in. One night over 50 tough characters from all over Clay County started milling around the gate and trying to throw rope ladders over it. They finally tunneled under the wall, broke inside and overpowered the guards and Humpton had to use tear gas, sub-machine guns and a limburger cheese sandwich to get them out again. After that Humpton quit and swore he'd never take a job as warden of a "women's" prison (even though he was allowed to give the inmates time off for bad behavior).

Book Rest Boon to Invalids, Housewives and Students...

By PENNY SAVER

Are you having trouble finding a suitable gift for an invalid friend? It can become quite a problem, for bed-ridden people are usually well-stocked with books and supplies for any hobby they might be keen about.

It's not likely that your friend could receive a more acceptable present than a book support. If you've ever tried reading in bed, you'll know just how awkward it can be, and when one is ill, the process becomes even more so.

The book support has a plastic base with a piece of metal for the book to rest upon and another to securely hold the book open.

Housewives, you can use the support to hold your recipe books open and upright as you bake. It's a great help. And students, why don't you try it for study? If you have any work to copy, this support will hold the book in a convenient position as you write.

Support costs $1.85.

Here's a cute little duck. He's a wooden bird with a hole in his head which holds a small pair of scissors, the blades forming his beak and the handle his... well, I guess, ruffled feathers. I was going to say ears, 'cause that's just what they look like. He's got a pincushion for a tail, and the perky little feller is sitting on a block of wood, having in each of the four corners a holder for a spool of thread.

This is a practical and reasonably-priced gift item at just $1.25.

Whenever I go away for the week-end, taking along an extra pair of shoes, I find that I have to wrap them in newspaper to prevent them from soiling my clothes. I won't have to any more, though. Because now one can buy shoe bags, just for this purpose. A shoe bag is made of a stretchy, knitted fabric and is elasticized at top, so that a shoe fits inside and cannot slip out. Two pairs of shoe bags sell for $1.65.

Don't Be Jealous Of Sister-in-Law

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a man is deeply interested in another woman, his family has reason to resent his interest. The wife who wrote the following letter, however, has no real cause for jealousy. She says:

Hurlock

(Q)—"My husband is a good provider and seems devoted to me and our two children. I know I should be very happy but there is one thing that bothers me a lot and leads to many quarrels. My husband is devoted to his unmarried sister who lives with my widowed mother-in-law, just two blocks from us. Almost every day, he stops in after work to see his family or he goes to see them in the evening.

"I don't resent this as I know my mother-in-law is lonely, especially since my sister-in-law goes to work during the day and leaves her mother alone. The thing that really annoys me is the attitude of my sister-in-law. She acts as if she owns my husband. She is always asking him to do this or that for her, talks about the things they used to do as children, and pays little or no attention to me and the children. She acts as if she is in love with him and to make matters worse, he seems to enjoy it. How can I break this up?"

(A)—I wouldn't try to break up the friendship that exists between your husband and his sister. I doubt if you could, even if you tried, and the chances are that such attempt would lead to family friction. So long as they are such good friends, you have little reason to fear that another woman will come between you and your husband. Your sister-in-law is merely hero-worshipping her brother, and, like any normal man, your husband is flattered by it.

Instead of being jealous and resentful, why not try to be so agreeable to your sister-in-law that she will include you in the conversation? When, for example, she talks to your husband about the things they did together as children, show a lively interest. So long as you seem resentful, they will let you sit on the sidelines.

Shower for Elsie Mogridge

Mrs. John Burnett Sr. and Mrs. John Burnett Jr., were hostesses recently at a miscellaneous shower, at the home of the latter, 1021 Tillicum Road, to honor Miss Elsie Mogridge, a September bride-elect. Upon her arrival, Miss Mogridge was presented with a corsage of pink carnations. Gifts were contained in a decorated replica of HMCS Crusader, in compliment to the groom-elect, Gordon Coon, RCN. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centred with a profusion of gladioli, carnations and other early autumn blooms. Invited guests were Mrs. D. Glancy, Mrs. W. Simpson, Mrs. D. Burnett Sr., Mrs. K. Bleakly, Mrs. J. Burnett, Mrs. J. Marsh, Mrs. J. Cahill, Mrs. D. Burnett Jr., Mrs. M. Dunnick, Mrs. B. Lenk, Mrs. P. Reid, Mrs. M. Ashton, Mrs. P. Craig, Mrs. P. Brewster, Mrs. D. Eade and Misses Verna Vygor and Susan Burnett, Master Tolson Burnett and Master Thomas Eade.

Swedish People Love Beauty; Find No Slums in Stockholm

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Galloway of Seattle are now motoring in Sweden, Denmark and other western Europe countries and Mrs. Galloway, the former Miss Edith McGill of this city, is writing interesting letters to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McGill, Tattersall Drive.

Through their kindness, Times readers may from time to time share in the travels of this young couple, through excerpts from the letters.

"Arrived here on Sept. 5 and really think Stockholm—the BEST! There are so many lovely things . . . the shops are loaded with glassware, ceramics, modern furniture and textiles. Wonderful buys!

"The roads are wide and well paved; you see many new cars and there is all kinds of building going on. They are not afraid to try new things and there are many large apartment sections for the poorer classes that are just as nice as those in New York that only the middle class can afford.

"There are absolutely no slums, although there are some old buildings in the older part of the city. The small towns are new and well planned. You can see why Sweden is richer than Norway in that the geographical features are much better in Sweden . . . much flatter land and good soil for farming.

"When we first arrived we didn't think we were going to be able to get a hotel because there is a huge Trade Fair going on, but luckily we got into a good new hotel that is a university residence in the winter time. You should see it! For $4 a night which includes service—and Sweden is an expensive country—we have a small but very modern room with a private bathroom and shower. There is plenty of closet space and some very modern lamps and furniture which are all functional. The dining room and lobby are ultra modern and the food quite reasonable.

Likes Swedish Pastries and Cheeses

"The Swedish people surely know how to cook! Dinner last night was really marvellous—the smorgasbord, Swedish pastries and methods of cooking fish . . . mmm! I never thought I would like smoked, raw fish, but the way they do it—it is delicious! And the cheeses! They are out of this world!

"Nearly everyone here speaks a little English and ALL young people do, and very well.

"One other observation. They really love beauty . . . parks, fountains, statues and flowers (in every window) are found everywhere. You see it also in their clothes, in the way they display things in their store windows and also in the way they display their food.

"It was a little hard at first to get the knack of driving on the left, but Roger has done very well. Only once did we have a scare . . . about half an hour after we entered Sweden we pulled into a gas station (had been doing well up to then), and as we pulled out of the station and onto the highway, we automatically got on the right side of the road.

"There were no cars in sight to remind us. After about five minutes we saw a car coming right for us . . . and, of course, quickly remembered.

"That was all we needed. From then on we have done marvellously."

Langford Girl Wed in Fresno

Sheila Mary Hicks, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. W. Hicks, 109 Peatt Road, Langford, became the bride of Joel L. Foster, 4045 Lowe Avenue, Fresno, Calif., son of Mr. Z. J. Foster and Mrs. G. O'Neill, San Francisco, at a recent ceremony in St. James Cathedral, Fresno. Rev. Harry Lee officiated.

The bride, a graduate of Royal Jubilee Hospital school of nursing and who has been nursing in Fresno for the past year, was given in marriage by F. O'Neill. She wore a gown of net over taffeta, fashioned with oval neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. An orange blossom tiara held her shoulder-length veil and she carried red carnations and white orchids.

Miss J. Kelly, Nanaimo, was bridesmaid, wearing a waltz-length dress of red taffeta and carrying a bouquet of white gladioli.

Robert Lenman was best man and Dave Cheleard was usher. Following the reception at Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house, Mr. and Mrs. Foster left on a motor trip through southern California. For traveling the bride wore a navy-corded taffeta coat dress with red hat and blue accessories. The couple will live at 3363 Normal Avenue, Fresno.

Dahlias, Gladioli Decorate Church For Stidston-Hourigan Ceremony

Tall, standard baskets of autumn dahlias and gladioli set the scene in Centennial United Church, Monday evening, for the wedding of Kathleen Winnifred Hourigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Hourigan, 960 Tulip Avenue, and John William Stidston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stidston, 644 John Street.

Double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Douglas Carr and traditional organ music was played by Mrs. H. E. G. Green.

The attractive bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a cloud-like gown of nylon net and lace. The bouffant skirt of net was accented by diamond-shaped inserts of lace and the fitted bodice was topped by a bolero of matching lace. From a Juliet cap mistled the bride's chapel-length veil of illusion net and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and stephanotis.

Bridesmaid, Miss Ellen Thompson, chose palest pink net over taffeta, sprinkled with clusters of silver frosting glitter. She had a matching pink net bolero and a halo headdress to hold her chapel veil. Deep red feathered carnations formed her bouquet.

Douglas Wakelyn was best man and guests were ushered to pews marked by nannies and bouton dahlias by John Hourigan and Bernard Whitney-Griffiths.

Reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Walker, 749 Snowdrop Avenue, where guests were received by Mrs. Hourigan, wearing a two-piece dress of brown with matching accessories and corsage of yellow carnations. The

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Do Your Worrying at Set Time—Then Forget About It

The trouble with most worryers is they substitute worry for action.

Specialists and Direct Importers
FINE CHINA, CRYSTAL GIFTS
SYDNEY REYNOLDS LTD.

THE QUALITY PEOPLE
Opposite Empress Hotel

I had the pleasure recently of talking with one of New York's distinguished physicians. He gives his patients this prescription: "Set aside a certain time each day in which to worry. If you feel the need of it. Take five or ten or fifteen minutes every day and worry just as hard as you can. Don't loaf on the job! Worry constantly and strenuously during the time you have allotted to it. But afterwards, do not worry until the set time the next day."

This seems to me to carry a lot of wise and practical psychology. In the first place, if you worry every minute of the five or ten or fifteen minutes you have set aside for that, you will be so bored with worrying that you will be glad to forget it for another 24 hours, especially when you know that your orders are to worry again tomorrow.

The great fault of the chronic worrier is that he mulls over his worries all through the day and often at night. He doesn't do his worrying in one big dose. Some worry occurs to his mind, then he is interrupted, has to go about his duties, and even has a happy thought once in a while in between worries, but the haze of worry hangs over him all of the time and he grabs onto his worries the first time he has a moment of leisure.

Be honest with yourself when thinking over the things you worry about! Of course some of them will be legitimate. Heaven knows, life puts on enough pressure with which we must deal. However, how much of your worry is about things which have not happened and will probably never happen; vague fears and dreams and pessimistic thoughts?

If you can do anything about avoiding the approaching storm or lessening the one you are already in, do it! If not, worry only at certain times, so that even when in the midst of difficulty, you may still snag some laughter and joy from living.

It seems too bad that worry and problems consume most of the time husbands and wives have together. This is natural! Both live very busy lives and especially when they have children, their time alone is limited. Therefore when they have time, they feel that they must discuss their mutual problems and responsibilities.

They often see their marriage partner as he or she really is only when they are with others.

So, I am going to add my prescription to that of the fa-

Miss Andrew Receives Honor

Word has been received here of a signal honor recently accorded to Miss Dorothy Andrew, RN, director of Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children, Portland, Ore. Miss Andrew was in Chicago last week-end, where she attended the annual convocation of the American College of Hospital Administrators, to which she has been elected a member in recognition of her work in Portland, particularly in regard to furthering the building of the new wing of the Shriners' Hospital. Membership in the College of Hospital Administrators is a high distinction and Miss Andrew is one of few Canadians to be so honored. She has been notified that her name will be added to the college's published roster for 1955.

A graduate of Royal Jubilee Hospital, Miss Andrew was for 13 years, matron at Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children.

new York physician. Remember his! If you are a chronic worrier, worry only at set times each day. Here is mine: If you are married and both live complex lives and have many responsibilities, plan a time in which to discuss your problems. In the meantime forget them! You may want to plan a once-a-week session. Most problems will wait that long. During the rest of the week just drift and enjoy living!

You may think that this is silly, but it works. Many seemingly silly psychological first aids are practical and helpful. Don't live in a haze of worry and problems, no matter what they are or where you are!

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by Mrs. Dan Gerber (Mother of 5).

Schedule slave? Try not to be. While the house will run more smoothly with a schedule, let it be flexible. For instance, baby's bath time can be shifted if unexpected events occur. If laundry's a problem, don't make a point of ironing every last frill. Your honeybunch is just as happy in clothes that need no pressing.

Treat for a teether. Wonderful to know that you can help bring blessed relief to your teething baby with Gerber's Teething Biscuits. They're extra-firm and smooth-surfaced . . . give baby plenty of chewing satisfaction, yet are ever so easy on tender, aching gums. Made of wholesome ingredients and baked into a special shape that small hands can hold easily. Each one is wrapped in sparkling cellophane so baby can count on his "munch" when you go visiting or airing.

Baby Spoon offer! A heavy silver-plated Baby Spoon (regular value $1.25) is yours for only 25¢ plus one box top from any of the five famous Gerber Baby Cereals. Just send to: Mrs. Dan Gerber, Box 17, Toronto 18, Canada.

New horizons. Once baby cuts those first sparkly teeth, he's ready for something more grown up in the way of food. Gerber's Junior foods are just right for this first step toward "chewing foods." For they have a tender, evenly-minced texture that's easy to manage . . . the same true-flavor goodness baby's been used to in Gerber's Strained Foods. Gerber's Junior Fruits, Vegetables, Soups, Meats and Desserts have the uniform quality you expect from specialists who make baby foods and nothing else.

Help wanted. Many of this column's most useful hints come from mothers just like you. If you have any bright ideas on baby care that you'd like to share with other mothers, do send them to me. Write: Mrs. Dan Gerber, Box 17, Toronto 18, Canada.

Peninsula Art Centre Garden Party

Women's committee members of the three-year-old Saanich Peninsula Art Centre, have arranged a garden party at "The Latch," the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gile, All Bay Road, Sidney, V.I., on Saturday afternoon commencing at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. H. G. Preiswerk is convener and others on her committee include Mrs. C. Thomas, Mrs. D. R. Ross, Mrs. T. Eves, Mrs. C. Levar, Mrs. F. H. Harrison, Mrs. M. A. Wood, Mrs. M. Luten, Mrs. R. J. Morris, Mrs. T. Flint and Mrs. F. N. Cabellu. Art Centre president, T. Ford with Mrs. Ford, will receive guests. There will be an exhibition of arts and crafts done by members, stalls and other attractions. Afternoon tea will be served in the garden, weather permitting, or if it rains, in the spacious home. Proceeds will be used for work of the art centre which is rapidly becoming an important cultural interest on the Saanich Peninsula.

B.C. Diocesan Board of the Women's Auxiliary, Church of England in Canada, at St. Michael's Parish Hall, Royal Oak, Friday at 10 a.m.

Mary Mellish Acquitted In 20 Minutes

Jury Frees Vancouver Girl, 18, Who Stabbed Addict in Quarrel

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mary Victoria Mellish, 18, was acquitted by an assize court jury Tuesday of the knife-slaying of her dope-addicted boy friend in a downtown rooming house May 25.

The jury of 11 men and one woman took just 20 minutes to free the blonde former department store mail order clerk in the death of Sam Messer, 22. "I didn't intend to hurt him," the girl testified. "I was so scared I didn't know what to do."

She said Messer had hit her once during a quarrel the night of the slaying and looked as though he was going to strike her again when she grabbed a butcher knife and stabbed him in the thigh.

The victim died in hospital within hours from loss of blood. Doctors said it was just "chance" the knife had severed a main artery.

Messer, who had a lengthy police record, was treated twice in hospital for overdose of narcotics, evidence at the two-day trial disclosed.

Miss Mellish said she first met Messer just before she quit school at 15. She decided to start living with him after a quarrel with her mother, she testified.

"Messer promised he was going to quit using narcotics," she said, "but he would then stay out all night on drug parties and would come home and start beating me up."

At one time he threatened her life, she said.

The fatal knifing took place when the girl returned to their room to collect some belongings and Messer struck her.

THREE CLOUDS drifting lazily over Orillia, Ont., were apparently disintegrated by Dr. Rolf Alexander, 63, a New Zealand physician, author and philosopher, in a demonstration intended to prove that the brain has vast stores of untapped energy. It was staged in Orillia's Couchiching park before an audience of about 50. "This cloud blasting is not a unique power I alone hold," the doctor said. "Anyone can learn to do it." He said it was simply an experiment to demonstrate his theory that the prefrontal lobe of the brain can and does radiate some unknown form of energy that has never been measured by science, although the bioelectric energy from the rest of the brain has been found by the use of electrodes.—SNS Photo.

TRIED A WATER TOUR?

7-Mile 'Inland Sea' Drew 2,200 in 1953

By TONY DICKASON

Discovered a new way to enjoy an hour's recreation plus rest the other afternoon: a water tour of Victoria's "inland sea."

There's a 25-passenger, 42-horsepower launch tied at the Causeway float named, appropriately enough, "Water Tourist." From here visitors from out of town and a surprisingly high number of local residents take the jaunt around the inner harbor and the Gorge waterways.

Last year 2,200 persons made the trip; all sorts, including a party of nuns who brought thermos bottles filled with tea. The tour is run by a bronzed genial gentleman named Harry Kayll who before the war ran charter boats up to Alaska.

SIX TRIPS

There are a scheduled six trips daily, depending of course on business, leaving at 11 a.m., 1:30, 2:45, 4 and 7 p.m., with a sunset 8 p.m. cruise. The Water Tourist cruises the seven-mile distance at about six knots while Mr. Kayll intersperses his running commentary on historic waterfront landmarks with pithy personal opinions.

His favorite, referring to a waterfront industry: "Now this plant is run by some nice people, they do a good business and are fine citizens." Or: "Now there is the old Motor Princess which is for sale. Everybody likes to own a boat and you can buy this one if you like. It's a nice thing to have, or is it?"

Further: "Now we are going under Point Ellice Bridge which has been condemned. I always like to tell visitors this before we go under it."

TOUR POINTS

Points in the tour... "Burial Island, where Indians used to place their dead. That old house has a fireplace in every room, and mother carried up the kindling... this is the Gorge where various Indian tribes have a canoe race every year; the large purses may have something to do with the battle for the honor of the tribe... these are the reversible falls and usually there are kids swimming here in the afternoons... the Salvation Army Old Ladies' Home; often there are a couple of elderly ladies who wave at us..."

Then past an old whaler, complete with crow's nest and harpoon gun, withdrawn from service 70 years ago... two hulls of ancient schooners, one now in use as a log packer.

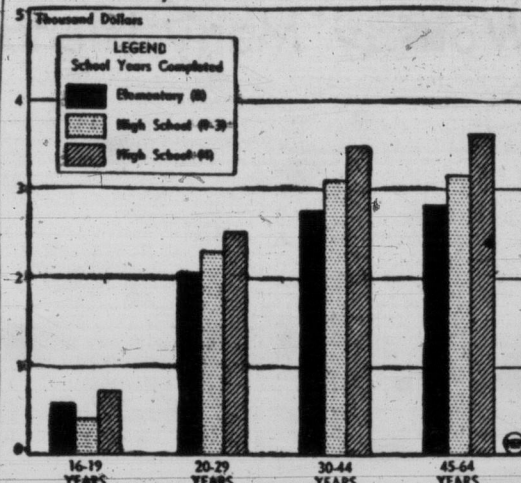

The jaunt takes about an hour. At the 2:45 trip 10 visitors were aboard; a pair from

Stay in School and Graduate, Income Is Likely To Be Higher EDUCATION 'PAYS' OFF—The more education a man has, the more money he is likely to earn, according to the U.S. Department of Labor. Above newschart shows average income for men by age groups and the amount of schooling they completed. The young man with a high school education earns more money at age 30 than the man with only eight years of school earns at age 45 to 64, his high level.

STAY IN SCHOOL, GIRLS—The advantage of finishing high school is even more marked for girls. The young woman who graduates from high school makes considerably more at age 20 or 21 than the average eighth grader ever reaches. Above newschart shows average income for women by age groups and amount of schooling completed. Data compiled by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Impish 'Eager Beaver' Tries Own Plan For Improving Anglo-U.S. Relationship

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA)—Lord Beaverbrook, Britain's impish press baron, has decided that Britain needs America and has set out to put things right.

Reminded recently that the British had burned Washington in 1812, his lordship was horrified. "I knew that we burned Joan of Arc," he is said to have remarked, "but Washington—I thought that he died in bed."

Now, 142 years later, Lord Beaverbrook finds that relations haven't improved much. The British and the Americans may not be firing each other's capitals, but effigies of Eisenhower and Churchill are burned symbolically in private.

With the backing of the Beaverbrook Daily Express (circulation 4,077,835), his lordship is sponsoring Anglo-American Study Groups, where the two can talk it over.

STUDY GROUPS

Under Beaverbrook's glib eye, American airmen in sunbats and Britons in tweeds gather each week in halls, like the Corn Exchange in Bury St. Edmunds, to discuss such questions as:

"Are the British reserved, or are they just plain snobs? And the Americans—are they all loud-mouths? Must they always brag about how much better things are in God's Own Country?"

They discuss other problems, too: British shipments to Red China, the U.S. tariff on British bicycles, the divorce rate among the British brides of GIs.

If better understanding doesn't come of it, it won't be Lord Beaverbrook's fault, for he has thrown all of his energy and zest into improving Anglo-American relations.

EAGER BEAVER

It is this drive which has earned him the nickname of "Eager Beaver."

The Beaver started life as just plain Max Aitken selling newspapers on a street corner of New Brunswick, Canada, where he was born. He was too poor to finish high school, but when he arrived in England at the age of 30 he was a millionaire.

By the time he was 40 he had been a member of parliament, a knight, a baronet, a baron and a British cabinet minister.

Britons remember him best as wartime minister of aircraft production, when he bullied factories into producing the planes that won the Battle of Britain.

But the Beaver's most spectacular success was in parlaying a $50,000 initial investment in the Daily Express into ownership of the world's second largest circulation newspaper.

Today, at 75, Beaverbrook can run circles around most of his staff. His working day starts at 8 a.m., when he listens to a digest of the morning's news over a loudspeaker telephone while having his bath.

By 9 a.m. he is through on the phone to his editor to dictate the line of the day's editorial. He is through again three or four times before lunch with items: bits for the gossip columns, important scoops, pats on the back.

"EAGER BEAVER"

The Beaver once remarked that he owed everything to oatmeal porridge, which gave him strength, and to Scotch Calvinism, which gave him courage. Certainly he is fond of quoting the Bible.

On one occasion, an editor guilty of a lapse of vigilance was told: "Henceforth let your motto be Isaiah 21, verse 8." The harassed editor looked it up. It said: "I stand continually in the watchtower in the daytime."

As a special treat, the Beaver will call in an editor who has produced a good newspaper and read the whole of the Scottish minister's farewell sermon from John Galt's Annals of the Parish.

Lord Beaverbrook likes to think of himself as the backer of lost causes. A tiny figure in chains and printed in blood-red

One Passenger Killed in '53 As Airlines Carried 1,754,628

OTTAWA (BUP)—Only one passenger was killed on scheduled Canadian airlines during 1953, the government reported Tuesday.

The figures on air accidents "tend to indicate that transportation by air has reached a safety equal to, and in some cases surpassing, other forms of travel," the department of transport said.

The only passenger killed, among 1,754,628 passengers carried by Canadian airlines on scheduled flights in 1953, was an RCMP officer who died when a Canco crashed in B.C. waters. An airline hostess lost her life in the same crash.

The report said that apart from this fatal accident, Canadian planes on scheduled domestic and international flights flew a total distance of 41,656,637 miles during the year without the loss of another passenger.

Robertson Davies' Comedy On Politics Well Received

TORONTO (CP)—Robertson Davies, Canadian playwright, drew audience acclaim Tuesday night with a witty mixture of politics and drama in the premiere of his new comedy "A Jig for a Gypsy" at the Crest Theatre.

The play, a spoof on politicians who seek the aid of magic to win an election stars Canadian actress Barbara Chilcote, fresh from her triumph as Kate in "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Stratford Shakespearean festival.

"In 'Jig' she plays the role of a gypsy teacup reader who foretells the election of a Welsh politician in the 19th century to turn the flow of votes toward him in a little Wales town.

Said Mr. Davies of his theme, "This is not a fantastic situation; there have been Canadian political leaders who never embarked on an election without consulting a fortune-teller."

The play was directed by Herbert Whittaker, drama critic of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

50% Increase In Unemployment Forecast by CCL

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor Tuesday predicted next winter's unemployment will be 50 per cent worse than this year's unless the federal government takes quick action.

A statement issued after a CCL executive committee meeting said that "the present policies being followed by many managements, and lack of policy by the government, point to a much higher figure during the coming winter."

It said steps to rally the 375,000 CCL membership in combating "disastrous prospects" will be the most important business before the annual congress convention opening at Toronto Sept. 27.

News Coverage Restrictions Hit by B.C. Broadcasters

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B.C. (CP)—The B.C. Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, at the closing session of its two-day annual summer meeting Tuesday, nominated Maurice Finnerty, owner of radio station CKOK, Penticton, as president.

Official election of officers will take place at the annual winter meeting, to be held in Victoria at a time to be announced later.

Tuesday's meeting also confirmed Mr. Finnerty as acting president for the remainder of the current term, a position he has filled since illness earlier this year forced association president Bill Reay, owner of CKNW, New Westminster, into temporary retirement.

Charles Rudd, CHUB, Nanaimo, was nominated as vice-president, and F. H. Elphicke, CKWX, Vancouver, and Jack Pilling, CHWK, Chilliwack, are directors at large.

Delegates passed a resolution expressing the association's appreciation to the British Empire and Commonwealth Games and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for the effective and generous co-operation extended to the independent radio stations in news coverage of the games in Vancouver this summer.

The resolution added that the association nevertheless repeats and endorses its previous criticism of the contract per-

Italy's Answer To Marilyn Monroe Arrives in U.S.

LOLLOBRIGIDA

NEW YORK (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida, Italy's brunette reply to Marilyn Monroe, arrived from Rome Tuesday ready to do battle with any new "flat-chested look" in fashions.

Using her hands to emphasize her opinion, she told 100 photographers, newsreel men and reporters who crowded around her at Idlewild airport.

"If you take a dress and put the back to the front, that is the new look. What do you think of that? It is horrible."

Miss Lollobrigida, wearing a non-flat-chested pink gabardine suit, was accompanied by her husband, Dr. Mirko Skofic.

Galloway Vancouver's New Purchasing Agent

VANCOUVER (CP)—All Birt Showler was unsuccessful Tuesday in his attempt to block appointment of Thomas M. Galloway as new city purchasing agent. He contended the post should have gone to W. E. McKillop, assistant to William Penny, the former agent, who was dismissed.

Victoria Cross, 100 Years Old This Year, Won By Many Island Fighting Men

By ILL PARKER
"For Valour."

These are the words inscribed on the Victoria Cross, an ugly bronze Maltese Cross with the Royal Crown surmounted in the centre, which was first awarded 100 years ago, on June 21, 1854.

On that day in the Crimea, Lieut. Lucas picked up a live Russian shell from the deck of HMS Hecla and hurled it over the side. When news of his action reached Queen Victoria, the idea for the Victoria Cross was born.

Since that time, 1,347 people have received the award, many posthumously.

Several amendments have been made to the Royal Charter authorizing the issuing of the VC. Today the ribbon is crimson for all who wear it. But until 1918, the Navy wore a blue ribbon.

In 1911 the right to win the cross was extended to Indian soldiers and in 1920 to matrons, sisters, nurses, staff of nursing services and services pertaining to hospitals and to civilians serving regularly or temporarily under orders of the forces.

The Victoria Cross carries with it a pension of £10 ($28) per year for non-commissioned officers and men and £5 ($14) per year for every bar.

Victoria and Vancouver Island have had their share of VC winners.

The old 16th Canadian Scottish of the First World War—the famous fighting "ladies from Hell"—earned four Victoria Crosses.

Best-known of the Scottish Victoria Cross winners is Col. Cy Peck, VC, who also won the DSO and Bar. He resides at Sidney, the oldest surviving VC recipient on the island.

Another old 16th winner was Lieut. W. H. Metcalf, VC, MM, a sergeant when he won his cross. Two others lost their lives while winning their crosses—

GREAT ADMIRAL

Admiral Lord Rodney entered the British Navy at age 13 in 1732, and became a captain in 10 years.

Pte. W. J. Milne and Piper J. Richardson.

Then there was the late Capt. W. Rayfield, 7th Battalion, originally of San Francisco, who joined up in Victoria. He was a sergeant when he won the VC.

A former resident of Work Street, Capt. Harry Mullia, VC, MM, went overseas as a sergeant with the PPCLI.

Capt. Allan MacGregor, VC, "Fighting Mac" he was called—headed for France with the 11th CMR, transferred to the 2nd CMR, and won his VC for reconnaissance work in the Battle of Cambrai. Later he joined the Canadian Scottish. He died in June, 1952, a lieutenant-colonel holding also the MC, DCM and ED.

Most famous of all the local winners—in fact probably the most famous of all the Canadian winners—was Major-General G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP, who also won the CB, DSO, MC, French and Belgian Croix de Guerre, and many other awards, to become Canada's most decorated soldier during the First World War.

General Pearkes won his Victoria Cross at Passchendaele while with the 5th CMR's.

Only one Vancouver Islander, Major Charles Ferguson Hoey, VC, of Duncan, won the cross at Government House.

Flutophone Orchestra Aids Cadet Band

By ROY "CAP" THORSEN
A "flutophone" orchestra is the newest musical wrinkle to crop up in local army cadet circles.

A band of this type is to be organized within the junior group (12 to 14 years old) of the 2183 I.O.F. (119 MAA Battery) cadet unit, officials said today.

Lieut. Cye Burley, commander of the unit, reports that Reg. Woods and Jack McKeown of Ward's Music Store will give the small-fry orchestra members instruction until a bandmaster can be found. A 25-piece band is planned.

McKeown considered the flutophone as the best medium with which to start boys in music. "It sort of prepares the kids better for the handling of standard musical instruments," he said. The flutophone band idea has been adopted in American and Canadian schools.

Lieut. Burley said "after a year of getting organized we are now well-established, equipmentwise and otherwise, to really get rolling." He said the corps had thrown open its doors to receive all the junior and senior (14 to 18 group) who wish to join. Parents can get information by telephoning him at 3-1486. The corps trains at Work Point every Friday night. Members are picked up at the public market square, Fisgard Street, at 7:30 p.m.

Promotions within the 89 (Kinsmen) Air Cadet Squadron of Victoria this week elevated Sergeants Garry Barclay, Edward McPhillips, and Laurie Pearce to the rank of acting-flight lieutenant.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Money, property, resources you now preserve, protect from waste, spending impress those of power, position, who in turn give you chance to make far more than has been present in your life ere this. Show appreciation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Get out of that groove you so easily sink into by finding new, interesting individuals who are dynamic, alert, animated. Get benefit of their experience. Show your open-mindedness.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Grasping chance today offered to get off with money, wizards, personal relations experts and listen to under-stand and experiences through which they have successfully passed opens your eyes to brilliant new future.

CANCER (June 22 to July 22)—Friends of great character and flexibility of purpose are determined to aid you, but it's necessary that you go along with them. Fine for contracts, partnership matters, public work.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21)—Placing your best efforts in such directions that someone in powerful position can see your capabilities release some unexpected but highly desirable benefits. Accept gratefully and use to personal advantage.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—This is certainly your day to get together with all others who can in any way assist you to be more successful in investments, happy in pleasures, efficient in routine regularities. P.M. be happy, have fun.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY
Thursday's child is one of those very unusual youngsters who can accomplish almost anything that happens to strike his, or her, fancy, so you would be wise early to have the very best and finest of training so that you can give a solid and secure foundation for the very unusual and progressive methods that your child will use in his, or her, future work and career. Fine also for giving your progeny problems to solve in early life, to use some of the greatest mental energy that needs right direction.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Making more money now, having larger allowance, getting taxes paid, etc., all depend upon good will, co-operation you extend to ideas advanced by members of your family. Ask for ideas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—This is your time to use your resourcefulness to discuss, thresh out any points of difference with others, for you find right phrase, words, comments to secure real meeting of minds with all important to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Keeping your attention focused upon your job and practical ways to make it more pleasant, agreeable, satisfactory in everyday living produces big results of gratifying nature. Keep plodding away.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—This is your day to enjoy yourself, to look into new outlets for pleasure, romance, sports, recreation, investments, hobbies—whatever increases your feeling that life is wonderful, worthwhile, delightful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Even when away from your residence, keep your mind mulling over ways to make your family more aware of your happiness with them. Take some thoughtful gift home for best results.
Paint, repair, fix up anything shoddy there.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—This is your day to wipe that chip off your shoulder and to let others know how really fond of and devoted to them you actually are, despite your recent preoccupation on some anxiety of your own.
Be happy. Give affection.

deal now and insure safe winter driving.

WOW--- JUST WHAT I WANT

IT'LL MAKE A PERFECT SLINGSHOT

HEY

MAKES A NICE BIRD SWING DOESN'T IT?

AROUND HOME

I'M ON MY WAY TO THE DENTIST TO HAVE A COUPLE OF TEETH RULLED.

GEE, SAMSON! WONDERFUL!

HE'LL GOING TO YANK TWO OF THEM BACK THERE!

REALLY?

THE TWO BACK ONES?! ALL I CAN SAY IS YOUR DENTIST OUGHTA SEE AN OCULIST!

DOTTY

GOODNESS! WHAT'S ALL THAT HORACE?

GAMES! THEY'LL GIVE US SOMETHING TO DO WHILE STAYING HOME DURING THESE LONG EVENINGS!

HM--SINCE WHEN HAVE THESE LONG EVENINGS BEEN A PROBLEM TO HIM?

MARK TRAIL

WHILE JACK AND BOO ARE RUNNING FOR GOOSE POINT, A MASS OF LOW BLACK CLOUDS ARE SCURRYING ALONG THE EASTERN HORIZON

JACK, CARRY THE TRAP AND I'LL TAKE THE TARGETS AND GUN!

DON'T YOU WANT TO SHOOT A FEW TARGETS, JACK?

YOU SHOOT FIRST, BOO! THEN I'LL TRY A LON SWING. IF I CAN HOLD THE GUN!

BUGS BUNNY

TH' TIGHT L'L CLUCK NEVER LEAVES A TIP, BUT I'M READY FOR HIM T'DAY!

HERE'S THE EXACT AMOUNT OF MY CHECK, OLD FRENCH!

SORRY I CAN'T LEAVE YOU A TIP, I'M ALL OUT OF CHANGE!

HOW D'YA WANT IT... IN DIMES OR QUARTERS?

ALLEY OOP

WELCOME BACK HOME, OSCAR!

BY GOSH, DOC, I WAS BEGINNING TO THINK YOU'D FORGOTTEN ME!

OH, NO, OSCAR, WE'VE JUST BEEN HAVING SOME TECHNICAL DIFFICULTIES, DUE TO OVERLOADING.

THE OLD TIME MACHINE DOESN'T SEEM TO DO SO WELL WITH TWO PROJECTS GOING AT THE SAME TIME

OH, THEN COOP'S OUT SOMEWHERE TOO, EHP?

YES, BUT WE COULDN'T DO MUCH FOR HIM UNTIL WE GOT YOU BACK.

WELL, ALL RIGHT, HE'S BACK. NOW WHAT'S HOLDING UP THE OPERATION?

ORPHAN ANNIE

LISTEN TO AUNTIE ANN AND HER TALKS--JABBER WITH NICK NOLE--PASS THE TIME OF DAY WITH CAR SUMMERS AND MY NEPHEW--AH-H--TOMMY ROTT, THAT IS--

BUT FROM YOU, ANNIE, I GET FACTS--YOU'RE A SMART LITTLE--BRIGHT GIRL--

THANK YOU, MR. NINETY--

TELL ME--THE PROFESSOR LET THAT COB SUMMERS, WITH TWENTY DOLLARS FROM HIM--WHY?

WHY? 'CAUSE THE CAPTAIN HELD TH' BEST CARDS, I S'POSE--

KING ARRO

OF THE EARTH HE'S THE SALT, AND OF THE CROP HE'S THE CRISP. HE'S SUNDAY ASSORTED SUPERLATIVES SYNONYMOUS WITH 'SUPREME'--OH, HE'S GOOD! HE'S GOOD!

HE'S A PRESS AGENT, PROF YORGE-- THAT'S WHY HE SINGS FOLKS PRAISES--

I SEE

AND WHOSE PRAISES WERE THOSE HE WAS SINGING?

NOBODY'S IN PARTICULAR-- HE DOESN'T HAVE A CLIENT AT THE MOMENT--

I'M SINGING THE PRAISES OF 'WHOM IT MAY CONCERN'. JUST TO KEEP IN PRACTICE.

MARTHA WAYNE

STOP! I TELL YOU! STOP, OR I'LL SHOOT!

OH, MY ANKLE!

RUN, MARTHA! I'LL HOLD HIM OFF!

OUT OUR WAY

SCRATCH RIGHT THERE ON THE SIDE OF MY NOSE. WILL YOU? IT'S DRIVIN' ME CRAZY!

I MIGHT GET SOME WORK DONE MYSELF TODAY IF THIS SCRATCHING DOESN'T START YOU ITCHING ALL OVER!

OH, I'VE MADE HIM A LITTLE SCRATCHER SO WE CAN GET A LITTLE TIME TO OURSELVES.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

SHERLOCK HOLMES

NO, THANK YOU, MISS EMILY. IT'S ABOUT TIME FOR OUR LITTLE DEMONSTRATION!

ANOTHER CUP OF TEA, MR. HOLMES?

I BELIEVE I CAN SHOW YOU HOW YOUR UNCLE MET HIS DEATH! COME WITH ME!

MR. TOLD TELLS ME YOUR UNCLE INvariably WOUND THE CLOCK AT TEN EVERY NIGHT!

THAT IS CORRECT, MR. HOLMES. JUST AS THE CLOCK WAS STRIKING!

HOW ARE YOU GETTING ALONG WITH THE NOVEL YOU'RE WRITING, DEAR?

I'M NEARLY FINISHED. MOTHER, IT'S A DIVINELY BEAUTIFUL ROMANCE.

BUT I CAN'T DECIDE WHETHER TO END IT WHERE THEY'LL BE HAPPY FOR EVER AFTER...

OR GO ON INTO THEIR MARRIED LIFE.

THANK GOODNESS YOU CALLED, DARLING! I'LL BE THERE.

I'M GROUNDED WITH THE ADJUT IN JACKSONVILLE, SWEETHEART. THIS HURRICANE MAY HIT KEY WEST, GRAB THE NEXT BUS AND MEET ME HERE.

KEY WEST... CHRISTY GETS A CALL FROM BUZ.

STEEANWHILE, THE SKIPPER OF THE HURRICANE RUNNER RUL'D A LUNY CREW--

NOW, GENTLEMEN, WHAT'S THIS ABOUT A 'MYSTEROUS OBJECT' SIGHTED IN THE EYE OF THIS HURRICANE? THESE PHOTOS SHOW ONLY A BLUR.

JUST WRECKAGE, SIR-- TWO SOME OF THE CREW THOUGHT THEY SAW A SAIL.

SAIL? MY EYE! IT WAS A PELICAN!

IT'D SWEAR IT WAS SOME KIND OF A SKIFF!

SIR, TO SUGGEST YOU TALK WITH MR. SAWYER, HE'S QUITE A DIFFERENT IDEA ABOUT THE 'MYSTEROUS OBJECT'.

GOOD! I'LL CALL HIM IN.

STAND ASIDE, GIRL. I'LL GET HIM!!!

DON'T YOU DAST HURT THO CREATURE!!!

HE'S ALL RIGHT NOW--HE JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND, THAT'S ALL. BUT I EXPLAINED THINGS TO HIM.

GIRL WHO CAN TALK TO TIGERS!!!

YOU'RE IN THE SHOW!!!

OH!! HOW HE CAN MEET FULTON FISH THE FOURTH!!!

Different Problems Tackled By Kiwanians of Northland

By BILL PARKER

A group of men at the Pacific Northwest Kiwanis International convention, which concluded Tuesday night, spent a good deal of their time explaining to fellow Kiwanians the problems of isolated Kiwanis clubs.

They are delegates from the clubs at Whitehorse in the Yukon Territories, and Juneau, Fairbanks, Palmer and Anchorage in Alaska. They have the same objectives as other Kiwanians, but face different problems.

Weather and distance are the chief bugbears of clubs in northern climes.

ANCHORAGE MAYOR

Francis G. Bowden, president of the Anchorage Kiwanis and former mayor of the city, said: "We've got 69 members on the rolls, mostly key men in the community. But some times we have quite a time getting them to attend," he said.

"Since we started in 1946 it has been quite a struggle, but we're winning all the way. Our worst enemy is the winter weather. Getting the boys out to meetings in the long, cold, and often damp weather, is a big problem.

"But we do it. And then as far as inter-club meetings are concerned, we run up against distances. No hopping in a car and running over to the next club for us. Inter-club meetings, except between Anchorage and Palmer are practically nonexistent.

"Once a year, however, we arrange a meeting of all the Alaska Kiwanis clubs at Mount McKinley Park."

"And believe me, there isn't a nicer place in the world to meet."

Mr. Bowden, a charter member of his club, has lived in Anchorage since 1928, with the exception of a few years in Cordova, Alaska. He is a druggist and has operated stores in both centres. From 1946 to 1948 he was mayor of Anchorage.

Mr. Bowden and his wife, Lulu, who is a Kiwanian, were attending their first district conference.

Guilty on 135 Charges Forger Faces Life in Jail

NEW YORK (UP)—An ex-convict who admitted leaving a trail of forged cheques from New Mexico to New York pleaded guilty in an unprecedented court appearance today to 135 charges filed against him in eight federal courts in six states.

He also is wanted on local charges in Florida and South Dakota.

John Francis Armstrong, 32, in addition to passing and forging cheques, was accused of stealing eight automobiles, one of them owned by television star Arthur Godfrey.

Assistant U.S. Attorney William H. Sperling said in Brooklyn Federal Court he knew of no other case of the kind. He said U.S. attorneys in the various federal districts involved agreed to let Armstrong plead to all the charges in one place.

Armstrong was arrested in May after an investigation by the U.S. secret service, the FBI and postoffice authorities.

He could be sentenced to more than 100 years in prison and fined more than $50,000 when he appears in court Oct. 7.

Sperling said the 135 counts to which Armstrong pleaded guilty were a record for the eastern district of New York.

Royal Canadian Navy Needs Women Recruits

EDMONTON (CP)—Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen said Tuesday the Canadian navy is rapidly growing but recruiting for the women's division is not as good as it could be.

He told a news conference the Wrens would like to have about 400 officers and ratings. There are about 30 officers and 160 ratings in the division at present.

Rear Admiral Pullen was here on the first leg of an inspection tour of navy wireless stations.

Traffic Light Changes Tough On Older Folk

By AB KENT

Older people don't have much chance crossing wide intersections downtown if the traffic light turns amber before they are near the opposite curb.

A Times survey shows that the four-second amber light at signal-controlled intersections gives a pedestrian only 16 feet of "grace" at normal walking speed.

Many walk much slower than that.

If the green light at Yates and Douglas turns amber when a pedestrian is halfway across Yates, he still has to cover 18 feet when the red light flashes on. That is on the east side of the intersection.

On the west side, where Yates is 60 feet wide, or eight feet narrower than the east, the pedestrian halfway across must cover a distance of 10 feet while the light is against him.

DOUGLAS FASTER

When crossing Douglas at the same intersection, he has less time to make the other side. Here, the intersection is 68 feet wide but the green light shows for 16 seconds less than on Yates. Amber light shows for the same four seconds.

By waiting at the curb until the green light is in his favor, a pedestrian can get across Yates Street before the amber light changes to red. It takes 17 seconds to make the distance at average walking speed.

Shortest green light at this crossing is 18 seconds, which, even with the added four seconds of the amber light, is not sufficient time for an elderly person who walks slower than four feet per second.

SPEED NEEDED

Only when crossing Yates at Douglas is a slow walker certain he can get to the opposite curb before the light changes to red. Crossing Douglas, he would still have 24 feet to go before the light flashed against him, even if he started from the curb as the light changed to green in his favor.

In order to get the best advantage of green lights, pedestrians must wait until the green light first shows, then walk quickly across the intersection. Police suggest they should keep an eye peeled on the traffic signal while crossing, so that if the amber light shows they will know how much time they have left to complete their crossing.

People who don't wait for the new green-amber-red cycle to begin before they set off from the curb side should retrace their steps if the amber light shows after they have covered up to 16 feet of the distance, police recommend.

Six Named to Attend Convention of CCL

Armed Bandit Grabs $111,170 From U.S. Bank

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A calm gunman dressed in U.S. Army working clothes who said politely "girls, don't look at me," robbed a south-west Albuquerque bank of $111,170 Tuesday.

He forced six employees and a customer to lie on the floor and at gunpoint directed Manager A. R. Salazar of the Five Points branch of the Bank of New Mexico to turn over the money.

The bandit, Salazar said, "held a pistol and made me lock the doors and all the other employees and the customer lie down on the floor. Then he made me empty the cages and the vault. Then he looked all of us in the vault."

TV OR NOT TO BE

Government Airways Monopoly Suits Listeners in England

Dislike of 'Commercials' Closes Doors to Independent Stations

By TOM MERRIMAN

It took two young Englishwomen to mow me down on the burning problem of the effects of television on home life.

One was Miss Margaret Rubner, secretary of a theatrical agency in London; the other was just Barbara.

They had just arrived in Victoria after a month's trip across Canada, which included a long stop at Stratford, Ont., for the Shakespeare Festival.

It was inevitable the English objection to commercials on radio and TV should spring into the discussion.

THEY WERE NOT IMPRESSED

Pontifically I explained to them the great advantages and justification for radio and TV advertising; how it gave us a much wider choice of programs; how the producers of the programs were entitled to a few minutes of exploiting their wares in view of the thousands of dollars they spent in providing free entertainment.

They weren't impressed. Exasperated, I scoffed at the English system, especially after they told me there were no channels on their TV sets.

There was only one station to listen to and that was the government's BBC. No dials to turn; no need for them.

"So simple and uncomplicated" was their reply.

"And so," I said, with what I thought would be a sweeping point to conclude the discussion in favor of the Canadian and U.S. system, "you have to take what the government, station offers you whether you like it or not. You have no freedom of choice."

It didn't register at all. They widened their eyes in surprise—both have pretty eyes—and answered in that precise English which can be terribly irritating if you feel you are losing an argument.

"No. We don't have to listen at all if we don't want to, you know."

"It is not compulsory. If BBC is broadcasting a program we don't like we turn it off and do something else."

"Could you do that?"

PURELY INCIDENTAL

Light began to dawn. There's no such thing as an evening of TV in England.

The problem of the effects of TV on social life has never arisen.

TV and radio are purely incidental. But even though they may have a point, I didn't quite like the way they said, "Could it be possible that you are sacrificing your self-reliance and depending too much on commercialized form of entertainment?"

They explained that in English homes when they had guests they liked to talk, sing ever play a part in English broadcasting.

I don't think TV or radio will ever become a social life or home life problem in England.

As the girls said English people still like to rely on themselves for entertaining themselves or guests; still like singing and music of their own making and they still like reading books and watching sport from the grandstands instead of a TV screen.

If something particularly entertaining is listed on TV, they might pause to hear it and then turn the radio or TV off.

"AND THEN WE READ"

When they are alone they may tune in and if the program has no appeal there is no searching for another channel. They turn it off.

"And then we read a book, talk or play cards," they said. The theatrical secretary found it very interesting to turn the dial and bring in different stations.

"But there are not many you would really want to listen to as long as you had a book to read or someone to talk to," she remarked.

COMMERCIALS

But it was the commercials crashing so frequently into a play that really intrigued them.

With little hope of getting over the point I explained that when you went to a theatre there were intermissions. The commercials were merely filling in the intermissions.

It was obvious they grasped the idea. It was also obvious they tossed it overboard as not worth while.

In desperation I thought of CBU to prove we had government TV and radio here. The idea wasn't good. The program opened with an especially long commercial.

I don't think commercials will

Two Suspects Held In Vancouver Robbery

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two suspects in the toy-gun robbery of a drug store here last Sunday have been remanded without bail until Wednesday on charges of robbery with violence.

Charges were laid against Donald Olson, 33-year-old taxi driver and Douglas Taylor, a laborer. A third man was held for investigation.

In the Sunday holdup, two men tied up three employees of the store and escaped with $2,300 in a car driven by a third man.

'Test Tube Baby' Says Mother Shuts Door on Former Hubby

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1954—36 PAGES

Car was gutted when gas ignited.

Brave Nurse Saves Woman's Life In Rescue From Blazing Auto

A Victoria nurse who was driving home from Nahalmo when two cars collided at Goldstream Tuesday night was credited with saving the life of one of the crash victims who was pinned under a blazing car.

Miss Phyllis Hamilton, nurse at Nanaimo Indian Hospital, braved a gasoline fire which tossed flames 25 feet, to drag Mrs. Dorothy White, 42, of Burnaby, to safety. Mrs. White is still suffering shock and burns at St. Joseph's Hospital today.

Also injured in the wet-road skid collision were her husband, S. Arthur White, 46, lacerations, and Alfred Morley Billsborough, 34, 3681 Craigmillar, who is in good condition at St. Joseph's with a fractured right knee-cap.

Mr. and Mrs. White were heading north at about 9 p.m. when their car spun out of control during a heavy rainstorm. The rear of the northbound car swung into the front of the Billsborough car. The force of the collision

MISS HAMILTON

threw the cars to opposite road-sides and punctured the gas tank in the car driven by Mr. White. Sparks caused by the grinding metal ignited the gas.

Miss Hamilton rounded in famous "Suicide Corner" and halted at the sight of the crash victims. Mr. Billsborough was waving at her and calling for help.

HUSBAND STUNNED
Mr. White was lying in the roadway stunned and the injured woman was stretched out with her head and upper body under the burning car.

Nurse Hamilton ran to her first. "I tried to drag her away, hoping that I wouldn't injure her more." There was no time for careful handling due to the searing heat.

"Her arm was jammed under the rear wheel and at first she wouldn't move. I finally got her free."

She recalled that she dragged the injured woman about a car-length, then rested, and dragged her further away. She saw that Mrs. White's hair was singed but at the time could see no other injuries. She loosened the woman's clothing and called to some men who gathered as other cars stopped.

The car was burning too fiercely to permit the nurse to see inside as she sought for other victims. Some of the other persons at the scene later verified no one else was inside.

Miss Hamilton stayed with the injured woman until Langford firemen, Colwood RCMP and Langford ambulance arrived and the injured were rushed to hospital.

ON HOLIDAY
The nurse is holidaying for a few days from the Indian Hospital and will visit with her parents at 1330 Monterey.

Other motorists using the Malahat highway Tuesday night found their headlights could barely penetrate a deluge caused by an electrical storm centred in that area. Police recalled that the scene of the crash was the same spot where three died in a car-truck collision last year.

They were Stanley Cross, 46, 132 Dallas; Donald B. Johnston, 34, 810 Metcalch, and Lester B. Jones, 59, 2581 Blackwood.

ACROSS CANADA WITH MONSARRAT SEEN 10 YEARS LATER ST. JOHN'S IMPROVED

No one should come to St. John's without seeing Mr. O. L. Vardy, of the Newfoundland Tourist Development Board. Mr. Vardy is an enthusiast, and a knowledgeable one. He is also a great help to anyone who wants to see his territory.

Apart from meeting the maximum number of people, my needs were simple: a drive around the town, a climb up to the headland above the harbor, and a boat trip around the harbor itself. Mr. Vardy nodded to all those things. Then he said, "I expect you'd like a trip in a helicopter, up to Bopavista."

I said that I'd like that very much.

Mr. Vardy nodded again. "Easy, we'll lay it all on. Now let's go to a night club."

GROWTH NOTED

It's 10 years since I've seen St. John's, and it has grown substantially. The shops are bigger, better and brighter; the housing development has covered several additional hills and valleys; there are lots more people; even the sun seems to come out more often. Ten years, and the change from war to peace, has made a vast difference. Only the harbor seems the same—the harbor with its perfect natural curve, busy quays, salty flavor, and sailors all the way round the world will be glad to know that the Crow's Nest is still doing business at the old stand—the one with all those steps.

We went round the harbor in a dory that was taking a short holiday from fishing. It was cold and foggy at the entrance, warm and sheltered inside. All along the quays were big ships and small ones; fishing boats from as far away as Spain and Portugal. St. John's schooners that putter up and down the coast with any cargo they can find.

DOWN THE YEARS

The sea is the life of St. John's. These are a sea people, and that has been true since Cabot first set foot on the cliffs overlooking the harbor, 450 years ago. The most substantial businesses are the old-established shipping and import firms. There's a Fisherman's News every day on the radio. All ship's movements are meticulously reported in the papers. The largest codfish (105 lbs., four foot six long) ever caught in these parts had recently breathed its last. I had the impression that there were a lot of mourners.

St. John's has the sea to live by, and it has a lot of history to remember. Not just Cabot (though I suppose that is the proudest bit of history any harbor in the new world could have), but latter-day history of significance.

Many people—particularly older people—will talk by the hour of pre-Confederation days, and Newfoundland's unique position in a maritime empire which was made (and could only have been made) by seafarers. They don't exactly mourn a lost independence; but they are alert against any move to expunge it from the history-books.

A LOCAL JOKE
Incidentally, there's a local joke about Confederation, when Newfoundland joined Canada, which is good enough to repeat. It goes like this:

Young man: "Now we've got Confederation."
Old lady: "What's that mean?"

"It means we've become part of Canada."
"That's fine—I never did like that boat trip."

There are other items of St. John's history. Alcock and Brown set out from here, in 1919, on the first air crossing of the Atlantic ever made. Marconi stood where Cabot once stood, and received the first trans-Atlantic radio signal. Lindbergh flew low through the narrows as he set out on his lone flight.

There must be lots more, but there's a limit to space—and a limit to the number of facts that one can absorb in a short stay. I did my best with the facts, under breaking waves of hospitality.

A FRONTAL ATTACK
But I found that I had something important to live down, as well.

It was early in my stay, at a party. A small fierce woman with a cold eye strode up and said: "Mr. Monsarrat, I am going to make a frontal attack on you."

Playing it safe, I said that my wife wouldn't like that at all.

Her eyes glittered briefly. "Mr. Monsarrat, why did you write that St. John's was a bleak place?"

I explained that I meant the weather in winter, not the warm-hearted people all the year round. I went on repeating that explanation, through-out my stay. I do so now, for the honor of truth and the repayment of a debt.

Night clubs, dory trips, Portuguese schooners, helicopters—this is a trans-Canada motor tour, and it really is going to start soon.

VALDMANIS TELLS COURT HE'S GUILTY

Admits Fraud
Of $200,000

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A. Valdmantis, former economic director for Newfoundland, today pleaded guilty to charges of defrauding the Newfoundland government of $200,000. Valdmantis will be sentenced Friday.

Another charge involving an additional $270,000 has been deferred. Valdmantis entered his plea in Supreme Court this morning.

Scheduled to appear next Tuesday, Valdmantis, 47, who appeared tense and nervous, was taken into the oak-lined Supreme Court chambers in a surprise move.

Defense lawyer Gordon Higgins who entered a strong clemency plea said he understood that the federal revenue department may take criminal action against Valdmantis.

This was followed May 1 with an additional charge of defrauding a German machine company of $270,000. The charge said that the alleged fraud was committed between August, 1950, and October, 1951, while the company, Betrieb Gesellschaft of Brunswick, had a contract for construction of machinery for a cement plant at Humbermouth on the province's west coast.

Higgins valued Valdmantis' assets at $568,759.

ARRESTED IN APRIL

Valdmantis was arrested April 23 in St. Andrews, N.B., on a warrant charging extortion. A few days later he was officially charged with defrauding the Newfoundland government of $150,000 and since then the figure has been increased to $200,000.

Valdmantis stood for the one-hour session, often blinking and swallowing hard. Although he shed tears on several earlier occasions, the emotional industrialist kept his eyes dry for this appearance.

Mr. Higgins said that because his client had gained his Canadian citizenship only a month before his April 23 arrest, he may possibly be deported if the federal revenue department takes criminal action against him.

Valdmantis was finance minister in his native Latvia at 29. He came to Newfoundland two years after he landed in Canada under sponsorship of the Lady Davis Foundation, which sponsors the immigration of outstanding Europeans.

STARTED AT $10,000
Valdmantis started piloting Newfoundland's economic development program at $10,000 a year but soon had his salary increased to $25,000.

Progressive Conservative members of the legislature were sharply critical of Valdmantis. They claimed he was paid more than he was worth. But the government just as strongly defended him and at one time Premier Smallwood said: "Newfoundland will one day erect a statue to Dr. Valdmantis."

Shamrocks Open Boxla Title Fight Tonight

Victoria Champions Plan Big Bid to Win
Opening Clash Against Peterborough

By DENNY BOYD, Times Staff Reporter

PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—The battle of the giants goes tonight in Peterborough's sports theatre under the stars.

The Victoria Shamrocks, the Peterborough Trailermen and nervous officials of the Canadian Lacrosse Association had one thing in common today. All were watching the unpredictable Ontario skies for signs of rain—rain that could delay the start of the best-of-seven series for the Mann Cup and the Canadian lacrosse championship.

Miller Bowl, with its dirt and sand playing surface, appeared well dried out, and Shamrock hopes that wet weather might force movement of the series to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens appeared slim.

However, dirt is still dirt. And the concrete-raised Shamrocks are not at all happy about playing for the Canadian title outdoors and on garden quality topsoil, although they have agreed to give it a try.

A large crowd is expected to fill the bowl, which bears quite a resemblance to Victoria's Stevenson Park box.

Shamrock coach Red McMillan, as reticent as ever, said: "We've got the best club that ever came out of Victoria. The addition of Jake Proctor, Lew Landess and Arnie Duggan will help us a lot as they know eastern lacrosse and are head-up players. We're going out to win

Hope the rodeo horses read that court decision so they'll know how they feel.

Barbara Ann Advises Marilyn

"Once you turn professional you haven't much time left for yourself," Canada's world and Olympic figure skating champion Barbara Ann Scott warned 16-year-old Marilyn Bell in an open letter to the press today. The Toronto high school girl, conqueror of Lake Ontario, is reported yearning for school and a normal life while Daddy and advisers talk cotracts with New York theatrical agents.

School or Hollywood Controversy Rages

'Confused by Fame,' Marilyn Bell Ordered

From BUP, CP DISPATCHES

TORONTO—Sixteen-year-old Marilyn Bell, nervous and near collapse after five straight days as Canada's number one celebrity, was ordered to rest today by her doctor.

Dr. Richard C. Hughes told Marilyn to spend the morning in bed and canceled all but two brief public appearances for her today.

The blue-eyed 16-year-old returned to a swimsuit Tuesday night for the first time since she conquered Lake Ontario in a tremendous 32-mile marathon that captured the hearts of the nation.

And she said it made her feel "just fine."

As she had done every Tuesday in the past, Marilyn took to the pool at Oakwood Collegiate to teach swimming to some of Toronto's handicapped and crippled children.

ADVICE FROM SKATER

Another sweetheart of Canada from a few years back, Barbara Ann Scott, wrote Marilyn that she had a few tips to offer her.

In a letter to Marilyn published in The Telegram, Barbara Ann said she remembers when she became a world champion figure skater and the welcomes and the crowds when she won that title.

"But I also remember that all I wanted to do was to finish a home-economics course at school—and I wasn't able to," said Barbara Ann.

"You have to decide what to do. You have to realize that from now on—and particularly if you turn full-time professional as I did—you won't have much time to yourself."

Meanwhile, from Ottawa, it was reported the decisions Marilyn makes on tempting Hollywood and swimming offers now under study will have an important effect on whether or not she pays taxes on the $60,000 she has already received in prizes and gifts.

Her coach, Gus Ryder, said bluntly, "If they want her to stay the lovely little girl she is, the quicker they get her back to normal routine the better."

Marilyn herself was feeling like a fish out of water as she sat in on the negotiations that might lead her to Hollywood as another Esther Williams.

Dulles Flying For Bonn Talk

French Premier by Foreign Secretary

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will fly tonight to Germany and Britain to deal personally with the talks on German rearmament. Dulles will fly directly to Bonn, capital of West Germany, for talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

From UP AND AP DISPATCHES

PARIS—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met French Premier Pierre Mendes-France today in a crucial, showdown conference which will decide whether France will play a role in a revised plan for a West European defense alliance.

Eden, who already has won approval for the plan from West Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries, came to Paris to serve notice on the French that this is their last chance to line up with their West European neighbors in a defense alliance which would involve controlled German rearmament.

France killed the earlier, American-backed plan for creating a continental defense force, including 500,000 rearmend West Germans.

Diplomatic sources said Eden will warn Mendes-France in tonight's conference that French rejection of the new seven-nation plan would result in an Anglo-American decision to rearm Germany without French approval.

ALL NIGHT TALKS?

The discussions between the two statesmen are expected to continue far into tonight.

As a replacement for EDC's one-uniform, six-power European army, Britain proposes to link a rearmend West Germany and Italy to the Brussels mutual defense pact signed in 1948 by Britain, France and the three Benelux countries.

OPERATE UNDER NATO

The expanded alliance presumably would operate under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which has taken over the military phases of the Brussels pact. The big problem appears to be whether France, whose parliament voted more than two years ago against admitting Germany into NATO, now will accept such an arrangement.

Some French officials think their premier will agree to West German membership in NATO if he gets certain pledges from Britain and the United States, as well as from the Germans.

Mendes-France is said to want promises from the U.S. and Britain to:

1. Keep their forces in Germany;
2. Bar German manufacture of major weapons, such as jet aircraft, atomic arms and bigger guns;
3. Back a system of manpower ceilings that would hold the German forces to something like the French level.

The present Brussels treaty provides that any attack on a signer will be met as an attack on all.

VANCOUVER 'GANGLAND' KILLING

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 42-year-old waiter was discovered with a bullet through his head on a city golf course today and police described it as a "gangland" killing.

Dead is Daniel Brent, 42, who police described as an ex-convict. He was a waiter at the Press Club here.

His body was found dumped on the university golf course about seven miles from the downtown area where police believe he was shot.

Title Fight Postponed 24 Hours

NEW YORK (UP)—The heavyweight championship title fight between Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles, scheduled for Yankee Stadium tonight, was postponed today until Thursday night because of rain.

Chairman Robert T. Christenberry of the New York Boxing Commission announced that there would be another physical examination Thursday, but not necessarily a weigh-in since the fighters are heavyweights.

Christenberry said, however, that there was a possibility the fighters may be placed on the scales in routine fashion.

Promoter Jim Norris announced the postponement shortly after today's weigh-in at which Charles scaled the heaviest of his career, 192½ pounds, and Marciano registered 186½.

The postponement was announced in the face of a weather forecast which predicted more rain Thursday.

This was the first major fight, scheduled for theatre television, to be postponed because of weather since the light heavyweight title bout between champion Joey Maxim and Ray Robinson on June 25, 1952. That bout was delayed 24 hours because of rain.

This was the first heavyweight title bout to be postponed by rain since the second Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott bout June 25, 1948. That bout was delayed two days.

THEY NEVER SAW DAYLIGHT

U.S. Newsmen, Sea Captain Freed By Reds After 18 Months Jail

HONG KONG (UP)—Two American war correspondents and a young U.S. merchant captain returned to freedom and daylight today after 18 months in dark, bed-bug infested jail cells in Red China.

The three—former United Press correspondent Richard Applegate, International News Service writer Donald Dixon and Capt. Ben Krasner—said their Communist captors:

1. Never permitted them to see daylight during the entire year and one-half of their captivity.
2. Never permitted them to communicate and did not even indicate to any of them whether the others were alive.
3. Bombarded them with "stupid and bewildering questions," especially about American "germ warfare" in Korea and about their "invasion" of Chinese territorial waters and insisted on phony "confessions."
4. Gave them fair food but little water and no cigarettes or other "luxuries."

The three showed the effects of their long imprisonment principally in loss of weight, tattered and dirty clothing, impressive crops of whiskers and hands that shook as they accepted from friends who greeted them here the first cigarettes they had tasted in 18 months.

They came across the Red Chinese frontier to freedom at 2:40 p.m., a little more than three days after the Red Chinese had

Assize Jury Frees Gatyshun

John James Gatyshun, of Victoria, was found not guilty of breaking and entering by a 12-man Assize Court jury today.

The jury returned its verdict at 2.10, an hour and 10 minutes after retiring.

Gatyshun was accused of stealing a steel measuring tape from a doctor's office. He was defended at the trial by James Proudfoot. (See earlier story, Page 17.)

Port Angeles Sailing Cancelled

The CPR this afternoon announced cancellation of tonight's sailing between Victoria and Port Angeles owing to the Princess Joan hitting a log. The company announced also that the Princess Norah would replace the Joan on the night run to Vancouver, while the Joan was surveyed for damage.

Vancouver Thief Gets 5 Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—Five years in jail on a third conviction of robbery with violence was imposed in police court today on one of three men who pleaded guilty to staging the $2,400 holdup of a city druggist last Sunday.

Sentenced to the five-year term by Magistrate Gordon Scott was taxi driver Donald Olson, 33.

Douglas and Ernest Taylor, aged 30 and 34, both Montreal seamen, each received two-year terms.

Police recovered $1,334 of the loot and said today they believed the rest had been torn up and flushed down a drain after the men found it was marked.

Says He Threatened to Kill Her

WELLAND, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Sylvia St. Louis today testified her ex-husband, Bruce MacLean, now charged with murdering his wife, threatened to kill her.

"It was not because of the money he owed me, it was because he had threatened my life and I was afraid, that I went to the police," she told a Supreme Court jury at the trial of MacLean, charged with murdering his 20-year-old wife.

Sudbury Bank Robber Gets $3,000

SUDBURY (CP)—A bank teller today was forced to hand over more than $3,000 by a lone robber who escaped into crowded streets.

Joe Tilley, manager of the Dominion Bank branch, said that a count of the money showed the thief got "well in excess of $3,000."

Seattle Sheriff Killed in Action

SEATTLE (AP)—A deputy sheriff was killed and a man and two fellow officers had sought to arrest was wounded in a gun duel today at Lake Joy, near the town of Duval.

The fatally-wounded deputy was Don Armeri.

The wounded man was DeRoy Johnson, about 37. Deputy sheriffs said the officers had gone to pick up Johnson on an insanity warrant.

Four Quints Start New Life

MONTREAL (CP)—The four surviving Dionne quintuplets began a new life today.

Marie and Annette registered at the Marguerite Bourgeoys College while Cecile and Yvonne began their training as nurses at Notre Dame de l'Esperance Hospital in adjacent Ville St. Laurent.

Brooklyn Wallops Reds To Retain Pennant Hopes

Brooklyn Dodgers continued their last-ditch fight in the National League pennant race by whipping Cincinnati 10-4 today.

Big Don Newcombe gave up 11 hits and needed help from Hughes in the eighth but the result was never in doubt after the Dodgers scored six runs in the sixth.

In the American League the New York Yankees, still nursing a mathematical chance to catch front-running Cleveland, were idle as rain washed out their game with Detroit. Cleveland was not scheduled.

Final Offer Given France

Eden Puts Revised German Plan Before French Premier in Paris

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will fly tonight to Germany and Britain to deal personally with the talks on German rearmament. Dulles will fly directly to Bonn, capital of West Germany, for talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

From UP AND AP DISPATCHES
PARIS—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met French Premier Pierre Mendes-France today in a crucial, showdown conference which will decide whether France will play a role in a revised plan for a West European defense alliance.

Eden, who already has won approval for the plan from West Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries, came to Paris to serve notice on the French that this is their last chance to line up with their West European neighbors in a defense alliance which would involve controlled German rearmament.

France killed the earlier, American-backed plan for creating a continental defense force, including 500,000 rearmend West Germans.

Diplomatic sources said Eden will warn Mendes-France in tonight's conference that French rejection of the new seven-nation plan would result in an Anglo-American decision to rearm Germany without French approval.

ALL NIGHT TALKS?

The discussions between the two statesmen are expected to continue far into tonight.

Shamrocks Open Boxla Title Fight Tonight

By DENNY BOYD, Times Staff Reporter
PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—The battle of the giants goes tonight in Peterborough's sports theatre under the stars.

The Victoria Shamrocks, the Peterborough Trailermen and nervous officials of the Canadian Lacrosse Association had one thing in common today. All were watching the unpredictable Ontario skies for signs of rain—rain that could delay the start of the best-of-seven series for the Mann Cup and the Canadian lacrosse championship.

Miller Bowl, with its dirt and sand playing surface, appeared well dried out, and Shamrock hopes that wet weather might force movement of the series to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens appeared slim.

However, dirt is still dirt. And the concrete-raised Shamrocks are not at all happy about playing for the Canadian title outdoors and on garden quality topsoil, although they have agreed to give it a try.

A large crowd is expected to fill the bowl, which bears quite a resemblance to Victoria's Stevenson Park box.

Shamrock coach Red McMillan, as reticent as ever, said, "We've got the best club that ever came out of Victoria. The addition of Jake Proctor, Lew Landess and Arnie Duggan will help us a lot as they know eastern lacrosse and are heads-up players. We're going out to win this first game and get the jump on the series. If the difficulties of the box are not too great, I think we will be all right."

Bobby Thorpe, Trailermen's jaunty playing coach, admitted he felt the Rocks were a better team than the one that bowed to Potes last year in the Mann Cup final.

Marilyn has t' decide whether t' be a national celebrity or a school girl. She kin be both, if she takes 'em in th' right order.

Barbara Ann Advises Marilyn

"Once you turn professional you haven't much time left for yourself," Canada's world and Olympic figure skating champion Barbara Ann Scott warned 16-year-old Marilyn Bell in an open letter to the press today. The Toronto high school girl, conqueror of Lake Ontario, is reported yearning for school and a normal life while Daddy and advisers talk contracts with New York theatrical agents.

School or Screen? Controversy Rages

From BUP, CP DISPATCHES

TORONTO—Sixteen-year-old Marilyn Bell, nervous and near collapse after five straight days as Canada's number one celebrity, was ordered to rest today by her doctor.

Dr. Richard C. Hughes told Marilyn to spend the morning in bed and canceled all but two brief public appearances for her today.

Dr. Hughes said the young Lake Ontario swimmer was physically fit but exhausted and "slightly confused" by her fame.

Marilyn's advisers were huddling with New York agents over contract that might take her to Hollywood, but opposition to the move snowballed among her fans and friends.

Two newspapers, the Toronto Star and Telegram, urged the little heroine editorially to stay in Canada.

The Toronto Telegram said: "She wishes to go back to school; let this one wish be fulfilled. There will be time for a career—and it will be a brilliant one—in the great world of show business. She may never again live in obscurity, but she is entitled to guard against the heartache and the

Press Club Waiter Shot Through Head

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police scoured the Vancouver underworld for clues today in the "gangland style" slaying of Daniel Brent, 42-year-old ex-convict, whose bullet-riddled body was found on a golf course.

Brent, head waiter at the Press Club here and a union official, was found dead at 8 a.m. near the 10th green of the University Golf Course.

Three powder-circled bullet holes were discovered in his head and body.

Police believe the victim was shot elsewhere, taken to the golf club by car, and dumped under a tree, perhaps while still alive.

The victim was in the habit of carrying large amounts of money on his person, but police discounted robbery as a motive. Little money was found on his body.

He is believed to have been slain between 4 and 6 a.m. after he left his job at the club.

No footprints were found in the wet grass where Brent's body was discovered by golf course employee Sam Bale.

GANG JOB

Tire marks were found leading from a nearby roadway up to the green. Police believe two or more killers are involved.

There was no indication that Brent had been in any trouble with police for several years.

He was vice-president of the AFL Club Cabaret and Construction Camp Culinary and Service Employees' Union and had recently been made head waiter at the club.

Brent lived alone in a rooming house in a good residential district. He was separated from his wife two years ago.

Fellow roomers described him as "good-hearted, a nice fellow, and so quiet you would never know he was in the house." He had few visitors.

Brent is known to have had a police record in Edmonton about 10 years ago.

Brave Nurse Saves Woman's Life In Rescue From Blazing Auto

A Victoria nurse who was driving home from Nanaimo when two cars collided at Goldstream Tuesday night was credited with saving the life of one of the crash victims who was pinned under a blazing car.

Miss Phyllis Hamilton, nurse at Nanaimo Indian Hospital, braved a gasoline fire which roared flames 25 feet, to drag Mrs. Dorothy White, 42, of Burnaby, to safety. Mrs. White is still suffering shock and burns at St. Joseph's Hospital today.

Also injured in the wet-road skid collision were her husband, S. Arthur White, 46, lacerations, and Alfred Morley Billsborough, 34, 3681 Craigmillar, who is in good condition at St. Joseph's with a fractured right knee-cap.

Mr. and Mrs. White were heading north at about 9 p.m. when their car spun out of control during a heavy rainstorm. The rear of the northbound car swung into the front of the Billsborough car.

The force of the collision threw the cars to opposite road-sides and punctured the gas tank in the car driven by Mr. White. Sparks caused by the grinding metal ignited the gas.

Miss Hamilton rounded off famous "Suicide Corner" and halted at the sight of the crash victims. Mr. Billsborough was waving at her and calling for help.

HUSBAND STUNNED

Mr. White was lying in the roadway stunned and the injured woman was stretched out with her head and upper body under the burning car.

Nurse Hamilton ran to her first.

"I tried to drag her away, hoping that I wouldn't injure her more," there was no time for careful handling due to the searing heat.

"Her arm was jammed under the rear wheel and at first she
